Rain of Fire Rakes London

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

LONDON, Feb. 23 (AP)—A substantial number of German raiders made a two-directional assault on London last night, showering high explosives and fire bombs over wide areas here and in other English sections, causing casualties including at least 10 killed and starting fires in several districts.

The raiders stirred up a barrage which many agreed was the heaviest of the war. Ten of the enemy planes were destroyed, one by a Canadian intruder over its base in France.

Making their 11th assault on London this month and the fourth in five nights, the attacks came in two waves over the east and south coasts. They converged on London and then spread out.

The main cargo of the raiders was incendiaries, perhaps many of them the new explosive type the Germans say they now are using. In size, the attacking force appeared equal to any sent against Britain in recent nights, perhaps larger.

For more than an hour a massive and continuous barrage was hurled skyward. Gun flashes combined with burning incendiaries to turn night into day.

Anti-aircraft shell fragments came down like metallic hailstones, kicking up sparks from the pavement and clanking on rooftops.

Londoners going to work today saw cleanup gangs clearing bomb damage and sweeping the streets of razor-sharp fragments.

A number of schools, including a famous one in the London area, were among the buildings wrecked.

One house was destroyed and six others were damaged by incendiaries dropped in the outskirts of an East Angelian town and several casualties were caused at one town in the home counties.

An entire family of six was killed in one house. Next door three children were killed and another was injured. A number of persons were injured in a nearby village where several cottages were demolished.

One bomb dropped in a hospital grounds just as an ambulance arrived with injured from another district, but did little damage.

Japs Watch Tide Of Death Roll In

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

ABOARD EXPEDITIONARY FLAGSHIP, Eniwetok Atoll, Feb. 22 (delayed)—The blackest month in Japan's military history was drawing to a close today, with the American flag floating over Eniwetok Island and American troops ready to storm the shell-torn beach of Parry Island where the Japs await death like men in some prison's condemned row.

For three days the Japs on Parry, under day and night bombardment, could look across two miles of water to Eniwetok island and almost see American soldiers and Marines slaughter hundreds of their compatriots.

The conquest of Eniwetok island was a noisy prelude to death for the Parry island Japs. Saturday Army and Marine troops went ashore at Eniwetok in landing boats, and the Japs on Parry could easily see the waves of the small American craft.

Ever since, they have been able to hear American rifle and machine gun fire, grenade explosions and the roar of demolition charges, as the Americans went about their determined task of wiping out Japs.

Parry has been a South Sea death house for days, and the Japs garrisoned there knew it. All they could do was wait their turn, wait until the Americans got around to them.

The Parry Japs underwent the most harrowing experience of all the Nipponese this month, the day-to-day wait for death, but every Jap in the Pacific suffered more during February than ever before, in the opinion of Rear-Adm. Harry W. Hill, of Oakland, Cal., and Washington, D. C. commander of amphibious forces.

Raids in One Day Cost Yanks 61 Forts

By PUGH MOORE

LONDON, Feb. 23 (AP)—American bombers and fighters, striking powerfully from Britain and Italy in the first co-ordinated assault deep into Germany, crippled enemy aircraft production anew and knocked 133 Nazi fighter planes from the sky, U. S. Army headquarters declared today.

Sixty-one big bombers were lost in yesterday's joint assault, which included diversionary raids by planes based in Italy, the announcement said. It listed 41 bombers lost from the force attacking from Britain, and 20 missing from the U. S. 15th Air Force based in Italy.

(Allied headquarters in the Mediterranean said only 15 Italy-based planes were lost yesterday, and a spokesman said 12 were bombers. This would make the day's total bomber losses 53.)

Strong forces of Allied planes were seen crossing the English Channel at mid-afternoon today.

"In three days of record-breaking operations, aimed at destroying Germany's capacity to maintain aerial resistance, American Air Force planes have accounted for 310 enemy fighters," headquarters said, with 153 falling to fighters of the Eighth and Ninth Air Forces in Britain, 117 destroyed by Eighth Air Force bombers, and 40 by 15th Air Force bombers.

The Germans threw up savage resistance as the Britain-based bombers struck the Junkers-88 assembly plant at Bernburg and Airframe and component factories at Aschersleben and Halberstadt. The 15th Air Force bombers from Italy blasted two Messerschmitt factories at Regensburg, and bombed freight yards at Petershausen, 20 miles north of Munich.

RAF Mosquitos maintained the bomb-rain during the night, hitting unspecified objectives in western and southwestern Germany without loss.

Huge War Gain Hailed by Reds; Iron City Falls

LONDON, Feb. 23 (AP)—German troops, routed from the great iron city of Krivoi Rog by the Red Army yesterday, are retreating westward toward the Bug river, a Soviet communique said today as Premier Stalin announced that in a year the Nazis have been driven from almost three-quarters of the territory they had occupied since invading Russia in the summer of 1941.

During the past 12 months, Stalin said, the Red armies have "advanced westward as much as 1000 miles in some places."

Stalin recounted the triumphs of Soviet arms in a special order of the day commemorating the 26th anniversary of the Red Army a few hours after he had announced the capture of Krivoi Rog.

Krivoi Rog was captured by Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian Army after a bitter four-months' siege.

"The enemy suffered enormous losses in manpower and equipment," the Russian communique reported. "Thousands of enemy dead littered approaches to the city and its streets."

Moscow dispatches said that only a narrow escape gap along the lower Dnieper river remains open to the retreating Nazis. Kherson and Nikolaev are probable immediate objectives of the Red Army forces, these dispatches indicated.

On the northern front, meanwhile, Soviet forces under Gens. Leonid A. Govorov and K. A. Meretskov moved closer to the city of Pskov, gateway to the Baltic, where the Red Army had its baptism of fire 26 years ago today.

Admitting the loss of Krivoi Rog, a German broadcast announcement said the city had been evacuated at noon Monday and that Nazi demolition squads had "left nothing behind but ruins."

Berlin also mentioned Soviet attacks near Zvenigorodka and east of Zhasnkov and in White Russia, but asserted these were all repelled. Moscow was silent on activities in these sectors.

30 Italian Women, Children Slain

NAPLES, Feb. 23 (AP)—The government of Marshal Badoglio said today about 30 women, children and old people were slain by German patrol troops Monday at the village of Sant' Agatha, a few miles north of the German lines on the British Eighth Army front.

Names of victims, the announcement tsaid, came from three survivors and other eyewitnesses of the slayings, which were carried out in reprisal for the operations of patriot Italian troops behind German lines.

STALIN DOOMS HITLER PLOT TO SPLIT ALLIES

LONDON, Feb. 23 (AP) — All German attempts to "introduce disharmony in the camp of the anti-Hitlerite coalition" are doomed to failure, Premier Stalin told the Russian people today in a special order of the day commemorating the 26th anniversary of the Red Army.

Praising the Red Army for smashing Germany "to the edge of catastrophe," the Russian premier again emphasized his contention that Russia has been bearing the brunt of the war effort, but declared:

"All the more hopeless will the situation of Hitlerite Germany be when the main forces of our Allies go into action and the powerful and growing offensive of the Allied states is launched.

Stalin said the Nazis, aware of approaching retribution for their crimes, are resisting "with the fury of desperation" and are fighting for every foot of Russian soil. Therefore, he added:

"We must be vigilant and not allow over-confidence in our ranks, or complacency."

Churchill Wires Stalin On Red Army's Success

LONDON, Feb. 23 (INS)—Prime Minister Churchill congratulated Premier Stalin today on the Red army's "glorious record" and expressed confidence that the Soviet forces would help pave the way to "peace with honor."

Japs Prepare Formosa Defense

CHUNGKING, Feb. 23 (AP)—Chinese reports today said a special headquarters for Formosan forces had been established with Adm. Hasegawa, governor of Formosa, as commander-in-chief. The step was said to have been taken with approval of Emperor Hirohito as a precaution against eventual Allied invasion of Formosa.

Yanks Beat Off 2 New Nazi Attacks

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, Feb. 23 (AP)—American troops threw back two localized German attacks west of Cisterna yesterday as Field Marshal Kesselring brought his long-range artillery into play and apparently regrouped his forces for another beachhead assault.

Nazi artillery shelled the nerve center of Anzio and other beachhead objectives, and 130 German planes hit at ground troops, but the Allies countered with 1600 aerial sorties and gunfire against enemy troop and vehicle movements.

A lull continued in the fighting on the Cassino sector. The Germans tried to infiltrate around Fifth Army outposts on two peaks northwest of the town, but withdrew under cover of a smoke screen when Allied artillery opened fire.

Otherwise, headquarters reported only normal patrolling from both fronts, with more snowfalls hampering movements in the mountains.

The Germans sorely needed a breatning spell at the beachhead for they suffered the heaviest casualties of any comparable period of the Italian campaign during their four-day assault from last Wednesday through Saturday.

One American battalion alone counted 500 German dead in front of its position southeast of Carroceto.

JOHN F. NOXON, JR., AND MRS. NOXON
Wife at Lawyer's Side as Death Trial Opens

Noxon Is Calm As Trial for His Life Opens

By PAULINE WARREN
Boston American Staff Writer

PITTSFIELD, Feb. 23—Lacking but five days of five months since his arrest, John F. Noxon, Jr., wealthy corporation lawyer, hobbled into Berkshire Superior Court today on one cane and went to trial on a charge of murdering his infant son by electrocution.

Last Sept. 22, the state alleges, the 47-year-old attorney killed his mentally deficient son by wrapping a live wire from the family radio around the child's left arm as he sat on a silver tray. For an hour and 20 minutes the defendant's wife had sat quietly in the ancient courtroom, under the portrait eyes of famous judges long dead, and when Noxon entered and went into the cage she rose, walked over to him and they shook hands.

GREETED BY WIFE

Since Sept. 28, the day he was arrested, they have not met except under the eyes and within earshot of jail guards.

Except for the courtroom setting they might have been, today, a distinguished couple greeting after a brief separation. Standing straighter than he did last fall, when he was on two canes—he is a victim of infantile paralysis—Noxon was modishly garbed in an Oxford gray suit, gray-blue shirt and blue, Roman-striped tie.

Mrs. Noxon wore a sheared beaver coat with a small, black felt tam and a simple green dress.

The defendant, before Mrs. Noxon moved out from her seat in the spectators' section, about five seats from the cage, had been warmly greeted by his counsel, among them former Gov. Joseph B. Ely.

MEETS COUSIN

Then he shook hands with his cousin, Samuel Kennedy of Auburn, N. Y., an attorney, who had come to court with Mrs. Noxon.

Altogether the scene of greeting seemed more a reunion than the opening of a murder trial, until Judge Abraham E. Pinanski swept in to take his seat on the bench and the court crier wet through his ancient chant to open the session.

Then the court stenographers were sworn in by the court clerk and the names of the jury panel were called. A total of 150 men made up the panel but only 149 were required to respond, the roll revealing that the 150th, Edmond F. Fiedler of Adams, had been excused because he is a chemist engaged in vital war work.

Next, the Rev. Ralph Hayden, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, gave the customary invocation.

This also is Noxon's church, but it was a coincidence, inasmuch as the clergyman takes turns in officiating.

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (by transport mail)—There are no night lights here to guide the late traveler, like strings of incandescent beads, over the network of rural roads. Just nature's blackness and an occasional moon. For here darkness is like the snap of a camera shutter.

It was back where we waited betwen a nest of hills and the only light was a pin-point beam from a lieutenant's flashlamp, as he searched his reconnaissance map for landmarks. He was young in years but the reflected light showed a face that was haggard and already old in experience.

For he and his platoon of motorized infantry had been living under "battle conditions" for six days and six nights and solving a succession of problems. Nerves were frayed, stomachs puckered and chins bristled.

The lieutenant had his worries. There was an "enemy" out there somewhere in the opaque fastness, a rival platoon of motor infantry which, at this very moment might be lying in ambush behind those half-seen haystacks or some wayside hedge. For his was a game of realistic chess which had gone on for 150 consecutive hours, with fretful winks of sleep and hasty snatches of dry rations.

Now the half-tracks began droning slowly along the faint ribbon of road, feeling its way through the luminescent mist, keeping cautious intervals and turning down by-paths hardly wider than cattle runs.

To this writer, who has frequently had his daylight troubles with the unmarked, mysteries of these interlaced highways, it was sheer genius that the caravan inched unerringly through the black toward its mapped objective—a cross-road marked by an ancient Anglican church where there would be barrelled drinking water and cardboard boxes of K rations.

For the penalty of missing the way would not be only a black mark in the umpire's score book, but a day of thirst and hunger for the men. The junior officer, with 30 odd soldiers on his mind, had earned his worry marks, the deep quotation furrows (") between his eyes.

Hide and Seek Game

For many months this hide-seek game has been going on while the already hardened troops grow harder and bleaker and more cynical until the thought of actual combat with an actual enemy looms as welcome release from a deadly drudge. Men's minds, jellied to the Army's rigid mould, find it difficult to remember when

Joint Legion, VFW Drive to Spur Vets' Bill

By FRANK REILLY
Boston American Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23—Now that the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion have combined forces in support of the measure, Congress was expected today to speed up action on the omnibus "bill of rights for G-I Joe and G-I Jane."

MARINE FOOT-SLOGGER — Marine Pfc. Walter V. Kuliesis, 22, of Lansdowne st., Brockton, pushes through the mud and mire of Cape Gloucester, New Britain, on his way to the front with an engineer's outfit.

Sponsors of the plan to assure justice for discharged and disabled veterans frankly declared that the VFW's decision to join the Legion in backing the bill has boosted their confidence to new heights.

They warned, however, that relatives and friends of men now in the services should continue to impress their congressmen, by telegrams and letters, with the need for immediate and adequate action on behalf of returning soldiers and sailors.

AGREE ON PROGRAM

In a history-making conference at Washington's Hotel Statler, marking the first time in nearly 20 years that the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars have agreed on a common program for veterans, officials of both organizations mutually assented to work for favorable congressional action on the omnibus bill.

As a result of the four-hour session, a revised bill with clarifying and perfecting amendments was scheduled to be offered to the Senate finance committee's subcommittee today by VFW officials, with the concurrence of the Legion.

As it now stands, the omnibus "bill of rights" is constructed on these major provisions:

GOALS SET IN BILL

1—Adequate hospitalization. 2—Prompt settlement of disability claims. 3—Educational and vocational training opportunities. 4—Effective employment opportunities. 5—Unemployment compensation. 6—Loans for purchase of homes, farms and small business. 7—Board of review for discharges. 8—Concentration of all functions in Veterans Administration.

Representing the Legion at the conference were former Governor of Illinois, John Stelle; Harry Colmery of Topeka, Kan., past national commander of the Legion; Atty. Francis M. Sullivan, national legislative director and T. O. Kraabel, national director of rehabilitation.

For the V. F. W. representatives were: Paul G. Wolman of Baltimore, Md., past national commander and chairman of the national legislative committee; Merle E. Hopper of Lansing, Mich., H. T. Kern of Knoxville, Tenn., and Omar B. Ketchum, national legislative director.

$250,000 READY

The Legion program for rallying all the members of its 11,800 posts throughout the country in favor of the bill is bearing fruit. The Illinois State Department is leading the way. Its members had obtained 250,000 signatures of Illinois residents recommending this legislation up to noon. These have been mailed to Washington for delivery to Congress.

Middlesex Officer Missing in Air Crash

PUEBLO, Colo., Feb. 23 (AP)—Second Lieut. R. C. Davidson, son of Mrs. Grace C. Petrie, of Middlesex, Mass., was listed as missing today by Col. James N. Peyton, Pueblo Army air base commandant, after the crash of a Liberator bomber near Eads.

Five other men are listed as missing in the crash and one as killed. Two parachuted safely.

He stepped on the starter. Nothing happened.

Tomes lifted the hood. On top of a cylinder head he found a litter of tiny gray squirrels.

CAPT. AND MRS. GORDON DECKER AND BABY SUSAN
Arlington Sea Hero Meets Daughter for First Time

Skipper, Family Unite After Foiling Death

Three there are in the family now and three of them faced death and destruction—but they battled through in the Yankee tradition that is part of their inheritance.

They had their first reunion when Capt. Gordon Decker, 28-year-old scion of a family of Yankee shipmasters who a year ago became the youngest captain of the Eastern Steamship Co. fleet, arrived back home in Moulton rd., Arlington.

His 10-week-old daughter, Susan, he had never seen—and he almost lost her before he could see her. For two hours after birth, doctors worked over the baby before detecting a heart beat.

His pretty wife, Phyllis, relapsed a day following the baby's arrival and nearly died, but she, too, rallied.

At about the same time, Capt. Decker, one of the youngest skippers in the Merchant Marine, was battling tumultuous storms as part of a convoy in the Atlantic.

During 15 days before the ship staggered into port, the young skipper, who holds a commander's rating in the U. S. Naval Reserve, had only 50 hours of sleep. He lost 30 pounds in his three months away from home.

Capt. Decker said it is his hope, and that of most officers and men sailing with him, that the United States will maintain a large merchant marine after the war "to carry American goods in American ships."

Capt. Decker comes by his seafaring naturally. His father, Capt. Mitchell Decker, veteran of 46 years at sea, is still in active service and, as this is written, is sailing somewhere between here and Russia with a shipload of war supplies.

War Parents Back Vets' Aid

Aiming to make it easier for medically discharged veterans to find a place in industry, the Waltham Chapter of the War Parents of America passed a resolution asking for a modification of health restrictions by the forthcoming special session of the Legislature, it was announced today.

Copies of the resolution will be sent to Gov. Saltonstall, to insurance companies and to all members of the Legislature.

At last night's meeting, the Waltham Chapter of the organization declared a special provision should be made for men with handicaps derived from the war, so they can be placed back in a job fitted to their condition

Florida Tourist Drivers Stranded

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 23 (AP)—Thousands of tourists who drove their cars to Florida when the chill of winter nipped the north were stranded today in a land with plenty of sunshine but no gasoline for the trip back.

Rationing boards in principal resort areas said northern tourists who drove down will get no gasoline to go home. Hundreds of applications are being rejected daily. Many winter visitors are shipping their cars home by rail.

At St. Petersburg, where 27,000 visitors are registered, a spokesman for a tourists' committee asserted an appeal would be made to the OPA in Washington.

TAX BILL VETO STIRS STORM IN CONGRESS

WASHINTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—Rep. Doughton (D.) of North Carolina, 80-year-old congressional tax leader, stormed back at President Roosevelt's veto of the new revenue bill today, declaring it raises a question of who is to write the tax laws, the President's "irresponsible theorists" or the people's elected representatives.

Charging Mr. Roosevelt ignored the constitutional responsibility of Congress, Doughton declared the President's advisers "seem to have lost patience with constitutional government by law" and "favor government by executive degree."

The chairman of the Ways and Means committee was joined in a blistering statement by Rep. Knutson of Minnesota Republican leader on the committee.

WILL VOTE TOMORROW

Together, in a further widening of the schism between Congress and the White House, they called on Senate and House to override the veto.

Indications now are that Congress will override the veto. The vote is set in the House tomorrow.

The President's veto message, which said the tax bill provides relief "not for the needy but for the greedy," set off a congressional revolt that embraced leaders in his own party including Doughton, and Chairman George (D.) of Georgia, of the Senate Finance Committee.

On the other hand, Chairman Sabath (D.) of Illinois, of the House rules committee, declared the Constitution gives the President "the responsibility and duty" of vetoing legislation he deems not in the best interest of the country.

"The so-called revenue bill," Sabath said, "is a Republican bill, passed with the help of some Democrats."

CALL RISE OPPRESSIVE

Doughton and Knutson declared the President's position in his veto message "is indefensible." They set forth these contentions:

Congress gave careful consideration to the Administration's request for $10,500,000,000 of additional taxes, and decided such an increase "would be oppressive."

The President's "advocacy of a drastic general increase in individual income taxes is based upon the wholly false assumption that all have benefited from the war boom.

The President's proposals "would threaten the solvency of all business and undermine its ability to provide jobs when the war ends."

Lonergan Counsel Fails To Show, Trial Put Over

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (AP)—Opening of the trial of Wayne Lonergan, charged with the bludgeon slaying of his heiress wife, Patricia, was adjourned today until tomorrow when his counsel failed to appear in court.

When an assistant defense counsel notified the court he had received a telegram from Edward V. Broderick that he was in Toronto, Ont., completing an unfinished investigation, General Sessions Judge John J. Freschi announced:

"I think his conduct constitutes contempt of court and I shall ask him to answer for it at the conclusion of this trial."

"I have never heard the equal of this in all my experience," he said.

There were 200 special jurors already in the courtroom when Broderick's associate, William Merritt, said the defense attorney was in Toronto and would like postponement of the trial until Feb 28.

The Canadian-born defendant was not present.

Judge Freschi said that Broderick knew his presence was required in court today, but "instead he left New York and wento to Toronto."

Asst. Dist. Atty. Jacob Grumet had expected to call at least 20 prosecution witnesses to tell the drama-packed story of the life and slaying of the young wife, heiress to a brewery fortune.

The prosecutor said the state's testimony would be completed in about a week.

From the cafe society circle came many of the principal witnesses—former showgirl, a magazine publisher, a Rome-born interior decorator and escorts on rounds of night spots.

Mrs. Lonergan went to her death only a few hours after she had danced at some of the city's swankiest night clubs.

Marine Captain Peter Elser, former Harvard football star, discovered the tragedy when he arrived at her $350-a-month apartment the next day to keep a dinner appointment.

Police said Patricia had been beaten on the head with heavy antique candlesticks and strangled.

Brighton Stable Fire Kills 5 Race Horses

Five valuable trotting horses were burned to death and four others led to safety today when fire swept the one-story wooden stables of the Metropolitan Driving Club in MacDonald ave., Brighton.

District Fire Chief Joseph Shea, who estimated damage to the buildings at $2500, said flames in hay made the stables an inferno before firemen arrived. Cause of the blaze was undetermined.

Metropolitan District Patrolmen Jeremiah Murphy and Fred Campbell, who arrived at the scene ahead of firemen, led four horses out into the street, but intense heat prevented them from rescuing the others.

One frightened steed ran from the scene and was chased for two miles by Brighton Patrolman Frank Prendible before he caught the animal in Arsenal st., Brighton.

The stables, owned by Barney Malone, of Washington st., Brighton, were leased to Agnes B. Fowler, of Arnold st., Arlington, police said.

Child Labor Fine Of $33,860 Paid

For alleged violations of the child labor provisions of the Walsh-Healey public contracts act, the Waltham Watch Co., has made payment of $33,860 in liquidated damages, the Department of Labor announces. This is the largest amount assessed since the act became law in 1936.

The allegations charged the company specifically with employing 102 girls under 18 on government contract work for a total of 3386 days without being granted an exemption of the law to do so.

The company claimed any violation of the provisions of the act was due to the demands of the armed forces for increased production of war equipment.

3 of Quadruplet Babies Die

DECATUR, Ala., Feb. 23 (AP)—Two more of the quadruplets born to a paratrooper's young wife died in Benevolent Hospital today—leaving only one, a girl, alive.

The boy, Edmund Hutto, Jr., died last night, and this morning two of his sisters, Sherianne and Yvonne succumbed. Diane, one of the four born yesterday, a month prematurely, still clung to life, fed by an eyedropper.

Mrs. Hutto, 23, was reported in satisfactory condition. Her husband, a farm worker before becoming a private in the paratroops at Ft. Benning, Ga., was dazed by announcement of the births.

The Huttos reside at Hillsboro, Ala.

FOOD COSTS IN HUB STILL UP 35 P.C.

Food costs in Boston are still 35 to 40 per cent above the January, 1941, level, U. S. Department of Labor reports revealed today.

Although some decreases were noted in house furnishings and miscellaneous commodity prices, they were accompanied by clothing price increases in the month ending in mid-January.

The cost of goods purchased by wage earners and low-salaried workers in Boston was rated as "now nearly 2 per cent higher than a year ago and 22 per cent higher than in January, 1941."

Retail food price reports from a half-dozen other cities by Wendell D. Macdonald, New England regional director of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, showed a slight decline from mid-December to mid-January.

Query Burke On Ely Pledge

State Democratic circles awaited with interest today the action of William H. Burke, Jr., chairman of the Democratic state committee, to School Committeeman Michael J. Ward's demand that the words "pledged to Ely" be placed on his nomination papers and the ballot.

Ward, who was named a national convention delegate on the state committee's unpledged slate, as a candidate from the 10th congressional district.

Ward's action in declaring himself for Ely for President followed that of former State Senator Joseph B. Harrington of Salem, who revealed he plans to set up a pledged-to-Ely slate in Essex County.

Lenten Season Services Begin

With solemn Ash Wednesday services, Catholic and Protestant churches of Greater Boston today ushered in the Holy Season of Lent, 40 days of prayer, penitence and fasting in preparation for Easter.

Blessed ashes, distributed after morning masses in all Catholic churches, will again be given out tonight at the close of evening services. Noon and evening services were scheduled in most Protestant churches.

Tonight, the three-day retreat of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, Particular Council of Boston, opens at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, with the Rev. Dr. Francis L. Keenan, paster of St. Michael's Church, Lowell, conducting.

Colleges Ask Army For 100,000 Boys, 17

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—If the War Department accepts a suggestion by hard-pressed education authorities, about 100,000 high school graduates 17 years old may be sent to college this summer at the Army's expense.

The proposal was made by a committee including the presidents of Cornell, Harvard, Indiana University, Vanderbilt, Villanova and Hamilton.

They said it would benefit the boys greatly by giving them intellectual and physical training.

QUADS BORN, THREE DIE—The 23-year-old wife of an Army paratrooper, Mrs. Spencer Hutto of Hillsboro, Ala., is shown in a Decatur hospital after giving birth to quadruplets, three girls and a boy. The boy and two of the girls died. The surviving girl is being fed by an eye dropper. Associated Press Wirephoto

SNOW, GALES, 7-IN. RAIN HIT CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23 (AP)—Four persons are dead and more than 300 had been evacuated from flooded homes today as a four-day storm, marked by floodwaters, snows, damaging tides, lightning, wind and a tornado, began tapering off.

Improving weather, with occasional moderate showers, was forecast. Rainfall totaled 7.17 inches, heaviest in six years.

In suburban Rosemead a porch, ripped from one house by a tornado, knocked a hole in another. A cafe was unroofed and trees uprooted.

Violent breakers tossed 12 fishing vessels ashore at Santa Monica and sank two others. Half of Malibu pier was torn away.

Rangers snowshoed up mountain slopes where roads were snowblocked, seeking trapped hikers or motorists.

The city's 407 public schools closed yesterday, but the 300,000 pupils were summoned back to classes today, except where heat was off.

F. D. Action Looms In Coast Power Strike

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23 (INS)—President Roosevelt was expected by Los Angeles officials to take action today on request of Mayor Fletcher Bowron that the United States take over operation of the city's crippled power system.

Industry, business and home life of the sprawling Southern California metropolis were disrupted by lack of power as a strike by AFL unionists of the city department of power and water moved into its ninth day. The employes demand $15 monthly wage increases instead of the $5 given them.

Held After Lynn Raid

Arrested in a holiday raid in which police said they discovered liquor hidden under the floor near the candy counter he conducted in a club, Michael Matthews, 52, of Lynn, pleaded not guilty today in Lynn court to charges of illegally keeping and selling liquor. His case was continued to March 1.

BROCKTON, Feb. 23—An investigation of the two-alarm blaze which swept the M. A. Packard Shoe Co., plant here, was started today.

BROMFIELD TO BACK G.O.P. CANDIDATE

By ROBERT VINCENT

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 23 (INS)—Louis Bromfield, noted author-conservationist and a life-long Democrat, today declared that he would support Republicans Bricker, Dewey or Willkie against a 16-years in the White House bid by President Roosevelt.

"Never before in my life have I voted a Republican ticket," said Bromfield, who only a short while ago was being urged by Ohio Democratic leaders to run for governor.

"But the time has come when it may be the thing to do for the good of the country. The present Administration is tired, confused and disorganized, and we need a strong man for the peace and the good of the country as a whole."

The author and world traveler asserted he was unequivocally opposed to the "Henry Wallace idea of government," which he described as "an idea of government by debt, expenditure and limitation of production; by formulae which all too often violate the basic laws of economics."

"As an individual I would vote for a candidate who would return the country to internal order and who could deal intelligently on an international scale with Salin and Churchill without forgetting our own interests," he stated.

Pot-o'-gold seekers on the South Shore had their first workout of 1944 when a gorgeous rainbow stretched across the heavens about 8 a. m. today.

2 R. I. Hospital Fugitives Hunted

CRANSTON, R. I., Feb 23 (INS)—Police of more than 15 Rhode Island communities took up the hunt today for two inmates of the criminally insane ward of the State Hospital for Mental Diseases who escaped at midnight with two others.

Two of the quartet, who fled after knocking out a guard, Arthur Woods, with an iron bar, were captured this morning. They are John Sullivan, 26, of Cranston, and Atmore Allen, 34, of Block Island.

Still at large were James Baker, 26, of Providence, and Augustine Barbarosa, 32, of Pawtucket.

Holiday Honeymoon Bars Swept Aside

Because Cupid found ready helpers in Boston, two young couples from Illinois were on brief wartime honeymoons today, their marriages performed in record time even though City Hall was closed on the holiday and they hadn't obtained licenses.

James E. Corrington, 21, of Clinton, Ill., a Coast Guardsman, and Mary Jane Johnson, 21, of Springfield, Ill., the first couple, were aided chiefly by Henry Daily, Boston American reporter, after he heard of their plight.

He arranged for them to obtain a five-day waiver from Judge Frank W. Tomasello at his home, then directed them to the Roslindale home of City Registrar Frank J. Fay, where they obtained their license. They were married later at the home of friends in the Back Bay.

Registrar Fay introduced the first couple, who were just leaving his home, to the second as they arrived. Also from Illinois, they were Ship's Cook Harold Bauer, 33, and Clara Werner, 31, both of Joliet.

Chaplain Raymond E. Bohrer of the Fargo building chauffered Harold and Clara to Fay's home, where they were granted their license after obtaining a five-day waiver from Judge Daniel J. Gillen. Their marriage was performed by Chaplain Bohrer at the Fargo building chapel, with a WAVE and seaman serving as attendants.

80 in Fire Saved By Police Speed

Two Back Bay police officers, who kicked in the front door of a burning apartment house to shout warnings and pound on doors, were given major credit today for the escape without injury of 80 persons from a fire which swept the Windermere Apartments, Boylston st. near Massachusetts ave.

The officers, Patrolmen John D. Ahearn and John F. McCarthy, flashed a radio warning to Police Headquarters after spotting flames in a fourth-story window.

Water Curbs Pain Of Dentist's Drill

CHICAGO, Feb. 23 (AP)—The soldier seated in the dentist's chair didn't say "ouch" when Col. A. P. Matthews, chief of the dental services of the Sixth Service Command, drilled his decayed tooth.

Dentists at the clinical program of the Chicago Dental Society's meetiong yesterday watched as Col. Matthews demonstrated the new almost painless technique now in use by the Army Dental Corps.

Col. Matthews said the method was developed because it was not the actual drilling that causes pain, but heat in the tooth caused by drill friction.

To reduce this change in temperature the dentist pours 8 ounces of water, at room temperature, into the patient's mouth, drawing it out with a second tube.

Bedaux Buried Near Tomb of Mrs. Eddy

The body of Charles E. Bedaux, millionaire French-born industrialist, lay today in a grave in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge, following brief and private Christian Science services.

His burial in a plot purchased by his family 15 years ago followed a change in previously reported cremation plans. The grave of the man who committed suicide in Miami, Fla., while under military arrest on a charge of treason, is in the shadow of the tomb of Mary Baker Eddy, founder of the Christian Science Church.

4 Men Released In Pit Murder

Four men questioned in connection with the brutal sex slaying of Mrs. Mary Isabelle Hanson, 49, in a South End cellar were released today after police checked their stories.

Capt. Leo Masuret of Warren ave. station said the quartet included a 57-year-old carpenter who was found wandering in the South End, his face cut and bruised.

Search for Mrs. Hanson's missing handbag continued in the hope it might contain a clue in the baffling murder.

Famed Gems Lost In Abbey Bombing

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (INS)—One of the world's greatest treasures—the jewels of St. Gennaro, patron saint of Naples—disappeared in the bombing of the Monte Cassino Monastery, Max Hill, NBC reporter, radioed from Naples.

The jewels which Hill said "rival in value and historic significance the crown jewels of the Romanoffs," were taken from Naples and stored in the Monte Cassino Monastery for safekeeping. Now, according to the NBC reporter, "the highest authorities of the Catholic Church in Naples are unaware of their whereabouts."

The collection consists of a mitre containing more than 1400 diamonds, 200 emeralds, 50 rubies and a number of semi-precious stones; a necklace donated by Joseph Bonaparte; another necklace containing 6500 jewels and a monstrance contributed by Empress Maria Theresa of Austria.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 23 (AP)—P. M. Brinker of Dallas, president of the National Retail Grocers' Association, said continuance of food rationing after the war will be a necessity.

PROXY SYSTEM HERE TO SPEED SOLDIER VOTES

Servicemen unable to qualify personally as voters because they are stationed in distant parts of the world may be registered by proxy by relatives, Deputy Sec. of State William N. Hardy, in charge of elections, declared today.

Hardy pointed out that the "proxy" registration will make it possible for youths who have attained the age of 21 since joining the service to vote in the fall elections.

The "proxy" registration can be made by the serviceman's father, mother, sister, brother, wife, husband, son, daughter, uncle, aunt, niece, nephew, or step parents, Hardy said.

Applications for registration of an absent serviceman should be made not less than 20 days before the date of the election. The application should be made to the registrars of voters in the city or town in which the serviceman is a legal resident, Hardy said.

Form of the application prescribed by the secretary of state calls for the following information from the "proxy."

Name of the relative making the application; city or town where he is registered; name of person in whose behalf the application is made; the serviceman's legal residence when he enterd th srvice, on January first of the preceding year, and on January first of the current year, or when he became a legal resident.

Injured in Train Jolt

Miss Mary Quigley, 49, of Loring ave., Winchester, today nursed leg bruises which she received when she and other passengers of a train were jolted, as the train skidded and hit two empty coaches at North Station.

Extend Tax Estimate Date

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—The Treasury formally announces a 30-day extension for filing declarations of estimated income and Victory tax for 1944, although emphasizing no delays would be granted for filing 1943 tax returns due March 15.

Originally intended to complement the 1943 returns, the estimating procedure was delayed pending Presidential action on the new revenue bill.

The procedure will be similar to that of last September, with both long and short forms again available to persons earning up to $10,000. Declarations are required from single persons with an anticipated income of $2700 or more and married persons who expect to earn $3500 or over. The forms and first quarterly payment must be filed April 15.

DE to Honor Hero Powers

The late Lieut. John J. Powers, USN, of New York City, who won the Medal of Honor, highest military decoration in the United States, will be honored again at Boston Navy Yard next Tuesday when a destroyer escort vessel will be named in his honor.

The USS Powers will be christened by his mother, Mrs. John Joseph Powers, of Hamilton pl., Garden City, N. Y. Delegations from the Boy Scouts of America, in which Lieut. Powers was active, will attend.

The Navy hero lost his life in the Coral sea on May 9, 1942, when he flew almost to the deck of a Jap carrier and released a bomb which scored a direct hit.

Finnish Envoy Glum on Peace

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 23 (AP)—Juhu K. Paasikivi, former Finnish cabinet member whose arrival here Feb. 12 led to rumors his government was trying to contact Moscow with a view to negotiating a separate peace, returned to Helsinki today without any indications Finland is any nearer getting out of the war.

Paasikivi declined to comment on the subject of Finnish peace negotiations, but he appeared to be in a less jovial mood than on his arrival.

When asked if he planned to return to Stockholm, Paasikivi said, "I've been here too long already."

Japs Still Fighting On Bougainville

BOUGAINVILLE, Northern Solomons, Feb. 23 (AP)—Brisk fighting continues along the jungle lines of Bougainville despite Allied occupation of the Green Islands, Lieut.-Gen. Harmon, commander of South Pacific ground forces, said today.

Most of the action has flared in patrol clashes beyond the American lines; but the killing of more than 120 aJapnese in recent skirmishes appears to indicate the enemy is still trying to bring sizable forces against our perimeter.

14 Held as Nazi, Spies in Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile, Feb. 23 (AP)—Fourteen alleged members of a German spy ring were in custody here today and several others were under house arrest following an investigation b ythe Chilean government.

Gandhi in Tears At Wife's Last Rites

POONA, India, Feb. 23 (AP)—Funeral services were held today for Mrs. Mohandas K. Gandhi amid sharp press criticism of the government of India for declining to release the wife of the Indian leader from internment before her death.

Gandhi, who long has schooled himself against displaying emotion, wept silently over the bier of his 74-year-old wife who died yesterday. She had shared his confinement since his arrest last August. Her body was cremated in the grounds of the Aga Khan's palace.

BRICKER SEES U. S. PERILED BY NEW DEAL

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 23—Declaring President Roosevelt's New Deal has given the country "an inefficient, paternalistic, dictatorial and reactionary" administration, Gov. John W. Bricker, of Ohio, struck out at 16 years in the White House for Roosevelt and invoked the tradition of George Washington to save the American form of government.

The governor was principal speaker at the annual Washington birthday dinner of the Peoria Creve Couer, which this year marked the 50th anniversary of the founding of the famous club.

"The best argument I know against a third term," he told an audience of nearly 600 in the ballroom of the Pere Marquette Hotel, "is the fact that the only man who ever held one now seems to be seeking a fourth."

He was convinced, he said, of the necessity of amending the Constitution to prevent an unlimited tenure of the presidential office.

He pulled no punches in excoriating the New Deal which he declared today threatens American institutions as they have never been threatened before.

"The executive branch of the Federal government," said Gov. Bricker, "as now organized, is a vast labyrinthian, shapeless thing of disorder and confusion.

"Czars are superimposed upon departments. One bureaucrat does not know where his field of responsibility ends and another's begins."

Gov. Bricker offered a six-point program for the immediate overhauling of the whole governmental structure.

It included thorough study of the "hydra-headed executive branch," the liquidation of all boards, bureaus and agencies not essential; the strengthening of the cabinet system; substantial reduction in the number of federal jobholders, and closer relationship between the executive and legislative branches.

As indicating the harmony within the party in this state, and the friendliness to Gov. Bricker, he was personally welcomed at tonight's dinner by Gov. Dwight H. Green.

In a radio interview, Gov. Bricker took a position in opposition to President Roosevelt, when he said he favored the state's right plan for soldier voting.

"Soldiers," he said, "should be permitted to vote for local officers, as well as for senators, congressmen and President. If Congress cannot agree on a constitutional plan I shall call the Ohio legislature in extra session, to amend the state laws so that Ohio's soldiers may vote in November."

feeling prayer at superior court openings.

Though reluctant to grant an interview, Mrs. Noxon had paused before the court opening to give the Boston Evening American, exclusively, her first tatement to the press since her husband's arrest.

"I am not sure that it is proper for me to say anything," Mrs. Noxon said, "but I must say that the last five months have been a great ordeal.

"And now I am looking forward to having Jack home again very soon."

Inside the courthouse, seats for ordinary spectators were at a premium owing to the vast number of police witnesses, crime experts, doctors, newspaper reporters and photographers, distinguished lawyers and court officials gathered for the trial.

149 VENIREMEN CALLED

Those persons who have studied every development of the unusual case predicted a battle would be staged between Dist. Atty. Charles R. Alberti, chief prosecutor, and former Gov. Ely, head defense counsel, over the impaneling of the trial jury.

Sheriff Sullivan, in his role of stage director for the real-life drama, had divided the veniremen into four groups, alphabetically, in order to eliminate delays in bringing them into the courtroom as their names are called.

Two groups occupy the regular jury rooms in back of the courtroom while the other two he placed in rooms upstairs.

The sheriff also has reserved rooms at the Wendell-Sheraton Hotel for use of the jury after it has been sworn in. He appointed Deputy Sheriffs Wallace H. Kezer of North Adams, William E. Ford of Lee and Franklin J. Scace of Richmond to serve, at $20 a day, as guards for the trial jury. They will live, eat and sleep with the jury throughout the trial.

NOXON CALM

Judge Pinanski indicated that he, personally, would question prospective jurors closely as to their views on capital punishment. If convicted, Noxon would face death in the electric chair.

As the trial opened, Noxon showed the same calmness and lack of emotion that has marked his long sojourn in the Berkshire County Jail.

Mrs. Noxon has never missed her daily visit to her husband at jail and his socially prominent friends have been faithful in calling on the attorney.

SEES HIS LAWYERS

Ex-Gov. Ely, who observed his 63d birthday on the holiday, devoted several hours to a jail conference with Noxon, along with other defense attorneys, Walter Donovan of Adams and Michael L. Eisner, the defendant's law partner.

Dist. Atty. Alberti's aides in the trial will be Valmore O. Cote of North Adams and Alfred W. Bettigole of Springfield.

As the trial opens up, it is indicated that it will feature a spectacular battle of experts. The defense has retained the services of such noted men as Dr. Milton Helbern, assistant medical examiner of New York city; William J. Barrett, chemist, and Dr. Charles C. Lund, expert on burns, famed for his work with survivors of the Cocoanut Grove disaster.

Dr. Alan R. Morits of the Harvard Medical School, pathologist for the Massachusetts State Police, who performed an autopsy on the dead baby's body, will also testify.

"I WAS CONSTIPATED FOR MANY YEARS!"

Now I'm 'Regular' Every Morning!"

Constipated? Then here's an unsolicited letter you'll want to read: "I'd been troubled with common constipation for many years. Was taking laxatives and pills all the time, and feeling very weak and run down. 3 months ago, I began eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN daily. Now, I have a regular, natural movement every morning, which helps me feel my best!" Mr. Samuel D. Blank, 292 Kings Highway, Brooklyn, New York.

What is this seeming magic of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN? Scientists say it's because KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN can really "get at" a common cause of constipation — namely, lack of sufficient "cellulosic" elements in the diet. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements, which help the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! Doesn't work by "sweeping out." It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If you have constipation of this type, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN or several ALL-BRAN muffins regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find lasting relief! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

SALEM FLIER CITED IN 'LIVE' BOMB ORDEAL

Lieut. Comdr. Thomas W. McKnight, USNR, 3L of Becket st., Sal., today holds the Distinguished Flying Cross for risking his life in flying out to sea to drop a live 500-pound bomb that had become loose in a plane at the Jacksonville, Fla., naval air station.

McKnight was one of five Massachusetts men decorated for "heroic and conspicuous" achievement, the First Naval District announced today.

The Salem man's exploit, for which he was commended by Navy Secretary Knox, took place last November. As operations officer at the Jacksonville field, McKnight inspected the loose bomb in the plane and realized attempted removal on the ground might blow up the airport.

When he opened the bomb doors the projectile wouldn't fall. He was forced to rock the plane violently before the bomb "slipped free and plunged into the sea.

Lieut. Comdr. T. W. McKnight

A graduate of Beverly High School and Worcester Polytechnic Institute, he enlisted in 1938 and trained at Norfolk, Va. His wife is the former Stasia M. Gesek of Salem.

The Silver Star was presented to Lieut. John R. Cain, USNR, 27, son of John T. Cain, of Keating st., Quincy, for conspicuous gallantry as commander of a patrol boat during the invasion of Sicily. He had previously received the Legion of Merit award.

Lieut. Sumner A. Pendleton, USNR, 26, of Mason st., West Somerville, was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action in the South Pacific. His wife, Mrs. Nancy Curtis Welles Pendleton, resides in West Somerville.

For bravery under fire and skilfully fighting off enemy planes in Northwest African waters last July 12, while serving as crew members aboard a Navy Patrol plane protecting a convoy, Edward Johnson, 21, aviation radioman, 2/c, USNR, of Riverview st., Brockton, and Edward N. Desjardins, 20, aviation machinist's mate, 2/c, were awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

BACK FROM HELL . . . By Burris Jenkins, Jr.

"HIS HANDS ON THE HOT RUNGS, DOC TURNS TO CRY ALOUD INTO THE INFERNO BEHIND HIM, 'WELL, GOOD-BYE, BOYS . . .'"
"HE FEELS HIMSELF FLOAT OUT INTO SPACE NOT EVEN HEARING THE EXPLOSION . . ."
PHM.1/c ED. "DOC" BYKOWSKI, WOODSIDE, L.I. EVERYTHING HAPPENS TO HIM—!
"DOC GIVES MORPHINE TO THREE OF 'EM AND STRAPS SUNSHINE TO THE BOOM SO HE WON'T FALL ASLEEP."
"WITH DOC DANGLING THREE FEET OUT OF WATER THE DESTROYER GETS UNDER WEIGH . . ."
BURRIS JENKINS '42

IT WOULD happen like this to "Doc" Bykowski! Stark naked under a shower and lathered with soap, he runs for his battle station . .

On the way, he grabs a skivvy shirt, his dungarees and shoes and pulls them over the dried lather onto his six-foot, four-inch frame as he reaches the spot on the messhall deck just over the engine room to open his medical kit and shout, "What's up?"

Before anybody can reply, a thundering vibration knocks him to his knees, where the deck plates slowly buckle like tinfoil before his face, breaking into cracks from which steam jets into the compartment.

The "talker" turns from his phones to yell, "We just got a fish!" and Doc Bykowski answers as calmly and laconically as usual, "I'd never know it if you didn't tell me . . ."

He is on his feet again when the casuals begin to come down from the gun deck, where the shell hits grow steadily heavier, and now Pharmacist's Mate 3/c Edward Bykowski, of Woodside, L. I., who once worked for the Dept. of Hospitals in New York city, forgets his personal danger and thinks only, as is his nature, of helping the wounded, applying battle dressings and tourniquets and giving shots of morphine . . .

Vaguely, from the repeated vibrations, Doc is aware that more torpedoes (officially five) are plunging into the vitals of the heavy cruiser Vincennes.

Eight-Inch Shell Enters Compartment

Doc is moving them to the starboard side, away from the rising water, when an eight-inch shell from a "penetrating salvo" thrusts into the compartment without exploding, but leaves a 15-inch hole in each bulkhead and knocks out the lighting system.

Under battle lanterns, Doc continues working, turning only once to ask the "talker" what the conditions are. The "talker" doesn't answer. He is standing motionless, with eyes wide. He doesn't appear to be breathing. Doc jumps for him and lays him on the deck. He takes his pulse. There isn't any. The man is dead.

Doc grabs the phones and calls "Central station! Central station!" but there's no response.

By now, eight of Doc's 14 casuals are dead when a voice bellows down the escape hatch, "All hands abandon ship!" and Doc Bykowski, who is very strong then and weighs 200 pounds, picks up one after another of the wounded men and carries them on his shoulders up the escape ladder to the main deck.

He gets out four while someone takes up the other two and then Doc goes back to make a final check on the dead men.

He is ripping off identification tags when a man hops in from the forward compartment with a foot blown off. Doc tells him all he can do is put on a tourniquet, as they are abandoning ship. He carries the man up a ladder . . . "he was a game fellow, very quiet . . ."

On the main deck someone calls him to help lower the wounded onto the rafts. By light from the burning hangar deck they slide them down the starboard side of the hull by ropes onto the rafts, and Doc notices that many wounded haven't been treated.

"Jes'," he thinks, "what wouldn't I do for some more morphine!"

He doesn't hesitate long. He figures it "won't take more'n a minute."

On his own, Doc Bykowski—who joined the Navy to kill Germans when his mother received official notice in August, '41, that her mother and father were dead in Poland—descends the escape hatch to his medical kit.

The trunk is now partly under water, but Doc stuffs a handful of morphine syrettes and tourniquets in his pockets and starts back for the ladder when a blinding flash blasts him 20 feet from the hatch, pinning his body against the bulkhead in rising water. He shakes his head clear and tries to rise, but the left leg buckles strangely, completely numb.

Gagging in fumes and smoke, Doc snaps on a dimmed flashlight to see his leg covered with blood and trousers in shreds, "like a hula dancer." His groping hands find the four sharp ends of both bones below his knee sticking through the cloth—"compound fractures of both fibiae and tibiae"—and both shoes blown off his feet.

A superficial wound on his right ankle—"just a skin flap"—pains him most of all, so that Doc convinced both legs are gone, drags himself to the ladder by his hands over the bodies of dead men (there were 52 killed in this and the forward compartment, from which only five escaped alive), and in the dark his hands sink into unmentionable warmth and stickiness more ghastly to big Bykowski's sentimental spirit than to most.

With his hands on the hot, twisted ladder rungs, Doc turns at the last to cry aloud into the inferno behind him, "Well, goodbye boys."

The Vincennes Rolls Over Slowly

Even here Doc's own suffering is forgotten as he injects morphine into four men before someone helps him swing his broken leg over the rail. He is about to slide carefully down a rope when Doc feels himself float out into space, not even hearing the explosion, and then he is in the water, grabbing at bobbing ammunition cases because his lifebelt fails to inflate.

He hears a megaphoned voice shout from the sinking bridge, "All hands keep clear of ship!" as the Vincennes rolls over slowly and Doc swims with all his strength until he hears a hissing sound and turns to see the last of the gallant "Old Fighting 44"—and her dripping screws perpendicular—disappear into the Pacific, dragging behind a curtain of utter darkness . . .

At this moment something more terrifying brushes against Doc's right leg, something slimy and big, and though he can only see a wavering white streak under water, Doc is sure what it is. He calls out, "God Almighty—a shark!" but there are many other voices crying in the darkness.

And then a sudden light from a burning ship illuminates the faces around him and the shadow of an island off to his right, and when this light fades after awhile, a single light comes toward them, growing larger, until they see it's the exhaust from a plane.

The red ball of Japan shows on the wings when the plane drops a flare and machine-guns into the water from 50 yards overhead and then is gone. The flare dies and there are only voices cursing, praying, calling for "God" and "Mother" . . .

Swimming toward the island with an ammo case under one arm, Doc sees a dark figure clinging to a boom. He calls out and the figure answers, "This is Sunshine." It's Sunshine, all right, the colored messboy, only Sunshine has lost half his left arm.

Uses Shirt When Tourniquets Give Out

By now Doc has no more tourniquets—he's used one on his own leg—so he tears off his skivvy shirt and binds up Sunshine's arm above where the tendons are hanging loose.

Four other men swim to the boom, which is large and bouyant, and Doc treats their flesh burns and other injuries. He gives morphine to three, but he's afraid to give it to Sunshine for fear he'll fall asleep. Someone produces a belt and they strap Sunshine to the boom and then Doc administers the pain-killer. Sick from swallowed fuel oil and now in pain himself, Doc gives himself the last syrette.

At daylight, they find they are drifting past the island, but soon a ship appears. When it gets close, they see in a burst of pride and relief "Old Glory" flying, and then they are being hauled aboard on lifelines—all but Doc, who is on the last. (It would happen like this to Doc Bykowski!)

A sub contact sends the destroyer's men to battle stations with Doc dangling three feet out of water and the destroyer under way for several minutes before an officer yells, "Get that man up!"

Anyway, Doc got back to his bride, with whom he had spent only a four-hour honeymoon when his furlough was cancelled the month after Pearl Harbor.

PETITION

To The Congress of the United States

in behalf of

THE AMERICAN LEGION "BILL OF RIGHTS" For World War II Veterans

We the people do hereby request and urge the support by every member of Congress of the "Bill of Rights" for World War II Veterans, which provides:

1. Adequate Hospitalization
2. Prompt Settlement of Disability Claims
3. Mustering-Out Pay
4. Opportunity to Complete Education
5. Vocational Training
6. Employment Opportunities
7. Unemployment Compensation
8. Home and Farm Purchase Aid

AND the Placing of these Functions in the Veterans Administration

NAME ADDRESS CITY AND STATE

Speed is essential in returning this petition to John L. Delay, Department Commander, The American Legion, Room 159, State House, Boston, Massachusetts.

Better than 5000 signatures were secured in a few holiday hours in Framingham as the start of a drive by the Massachusetts State Department, American Legion, to spur Congress into speedy passage of the Legion's omnibus bill for rehabilitation of World War II veterans.

The State Department expects to have the signatures of 500,000 citizens of the Commonwealth on these petitions to Congress before the drive, launched by State Comdr. John L. Delay at Framingham Post's 25th anniversary celebration, is ended.

Today, at 4 p. m., Comdr. Delay called a meeting of county commanders, to whom will be delegated the task of co-ordinating posts in their commands.

More than 85,000 Bay State members of the Legion and its auxiliary will be enrolled in the drive to obtain signatures, which Comdr. Delay will personally carry to Washington.

In Washington, Delay and a delegation of Legionnaires will call upon every Senator and Representative of the Commonwealth in Congress to voice a demand for swift passage of the bill and to present the mighty petition.

Nearly 100,000 of the signatures were expected to be rolled up on Washington's Birthday, chosen as the date for launching the drive because "Washington, the Father of His Country, would be first to recognize the claims of its sons who fought for preservation of its ideals," Delay said.

The petitions, properly inscribed with the purposes of the bill, which among other things provides permission for veterans to borrow $1000 from the government to finance buying homes, farms, business or farm implements—the money to be repaid without interest the first year and at 3 per cent only thereafter—will each contain 25 signatures.

Comdr. Delay, on Monday, sent packets of the blank petitions to each of the 351 Legion posts and their auxiliaries.

Commanders of each Post in the State and of each auxiliary have been urged by Delay to personally see to distributions of the petitions among the 55,000 Legion members and 30,000 auxiliaries.

This vast army of patriotic citizens will carry the petitions into every home and business office in the State to obtain the 100,000 signatures in record time. Headquarters will be in the State House.

For Veterans

Your signature on this petition will help speed passage of the omnibus bill providing for rehabilitation of veterans of World War II. The Mass. State Dept. of the American Legion wants 500,000 signatures.

A Dictatorial Veto

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S veto of the federal TAX INCREASE bill, if Congress is subservient and cowardly enough to sustain it, is one of the last steps short of EXECUTIVE DICTATORSHIP.

Very few such steps, if any, remain to be taken.

The President is now attempting to impose taxes upon the American people by executive decree.

This is in conflict with the constitutional authority which rests solely upon Congress.

It is contrary to the majority will of the people, as Congress reflects and represents that will.

By this means, the President accomplishes the virtual DISSOLUTION of Congress—leaving it in being, of course, but wholly impotent.

He very thinly disguises his intent in that respect.

He reminds Congress that he had previously laid down the pattern of the only kind of a tax increase bill he would accept, with no deviations allowed.

He now notifies Congress that its one remaining chance to enact tax increase legislation he will accept is to yield to him.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has no authority for this position, other than his own arbitrary and arrogant assumption of authority to decide for himself and DO AS HE PLEASES.

His veto message is in contempt of Congress, in contempt of constitutional processes and in clear contempt of the American people.

President Roosevelt has emerged from this situation with a frank and open bid for executive power unprecedented in a democracy.

Indeed, if he gains his end in this matter, the United States will no longer BE a democracy.

What further authority and prestige can Congress claim and exercise, if it surrenders its tax powers to the President?

It has long since permitted the President to establish independent agencies of government which have usurped and exercised the power to make rules and regulations having the weight of law.

These independent executive agencies have not only bypassed Congress, but the courts as well.

They have regulated and restricted the American people, their property and their very lives and liberties without sanction by Congress, and often with denial of appeal to the courts.

In a vast variety of many vital ways, the New Deal-controlled Congress has nullified its own powers by delegating them to the President and his dictatorial bureaucracy.

BUT UNTIL NOW, the power to tax has remained with Congress.

It will not so remain, if the President succeeds in his current purpose.

The tax increase bill which President Roosevelt has vetoed is not an insufficient or inadequate measure.

It adds more than two billion dollars to the annual federal tax burdens of the people.

The EXISTING federal tax burden of the people is already more than forty billion dollars a year—the highest in the history of the American nation and of the entire world.

It is confiscatory of nearly the total incomes of large segments of the people.

It is an obstruction to industrial enterprise, and to employment.

Congress properly recognized that ANY increase in such a burden would be unjust and dangerous.

Nevertheless, President Roosevelt arbitrarily and arrogantly insists that the increase which Congress reluctantly authorized be MULTIPLIED BY FIVE.

Congress should OVERRIDE this unreasonable, unwise and dictatorial veto.

If Congress does not have enough respect for itself to do this, it should have enough respect for the rights and institutions of the American people to preserve them and safeguard them against the boldest bid for executive dictatorship ever made in defiance of the American people.

Fair Treatment for Veterans

WORLD WAR II veterans will have their claims adjudicated without procrastination and delay.

That is the promise of Edward T. Mulkern, Veterans' Administration official.

He made it a few days ago in announcing the opening of a new Boston office where claims will be promptly considered.

The Hearst newspapers were the first to bring the plight of the returning veterans to the attention of Congress and the nation.

Of course the elimination of some of the red tape in the settlement of veterans' affairs is not all that should and must be done.

Nor can the granting of a miserly Mustering-Out Pay ranging from $100 to $300 be regarded as an honest and honorable discharge of the nation's debt to its defenders.

The veterans have earned and richly deserve the benefits and protection of adequate legislation like the American Legion's "Bill of Rights" for the service men and women of World War II.

On the Side . . . . . By E. V. Durling

They say I will forget you,
That time will ease the pain,
But can spring forget her blossoms?
Does a rose forget the rain?
When summer winds on gentle wings
Forget the friendly trees,
When flowers forget each early dawn,
Their petals kissed with dew,
When all loved things forgotten are,
Then I'll forget you.
—JOSEPH DONNELLY.

THE author of the above is a former policeman now on the disabled list. This is his first attempt at verse. He would make a good lyric writer for popular songs . . . A Chicagoan says the girl he married made him propose four times before she accepted him. How about you, mister? Did you click on your first proposal? . . . Dispatch reveals a Newark, N. J., landlord charged one dollar a week extra for a dog and thus ran above the ceiling and found himself in difficulties. I think perhaps the landlord had something there. Not long ago we got in a taxicab with our dog. It was in Hot Springs, Ark. "How much?" I asked the driver at end of trip. He said: "Sventy-five cents. Fifty cents for two; 75 cents for three." I said: "There are only two of us." The driver pointed at our noble animal and said: "How about him?" I paid for three.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—Don't you think Ingrid Bergman is a poor selection to play Sarah Bernhardt? A—I have to tell you I never saw Sarah Bernhardt. Q—You refer to "Two Hearts That Beat in Waltz Time. The title of this song is "Two Hearts in Waltz Time." A—Depends on how you translate the title from the original German. I think I had it about right. Q—Didn't Ted Lewis originate the saying "Is everybody happy?" A—Ernest Hogan wrote a song called "Is Everybody Happy" long before Lewis became a bandmaster. Q—Either tell me who said the following or forward a candy bar: "Damn the torpedoes! Full speed ahead!" A—David Glasgow Farragut said that at the Battle of Mobile Bay in 1864. Never mind sending a stogie. Buy a pack of cigarettes and give same to first serviceman you meet. Q—Who was the greatest preacher you ever heard? A—That's a difficult question. Best sermon I ever heard was delivered by Sam Walter Foss. He concluded reciting his famous poem, "The House by the Side of the Road." Mr. Foss was not a minister but spoke at our college chapel services.

AFTER DARK: "As to there having been no night running horse racing in 40 years," writes R. F. Murray, "that is no correct. There was a night meeting at Gresham, Ore., in 1935. I ran a black gelding named Meadow King there in a five-and-a-half-furlong dash. My horse won by many lengths but his number didn't go up in the first three. Due to the inadequate lighting the placing judges hadn't seen him cross the line. However, the presiding steward, Judge H. Morrison, and a number of others saw him, so it was ruled my horse had won, which was a great relief to me as I had bet my last hundred dollars on him."

PASSING BY: Renee Carroll. Celebrated Broadway hat-check girl. She has been with Sardi's for 17 years. She claims the first time Clem McCarthy came to Sardis he was wearing a derby hat. That must have been a very interesting spectacle . . Judith Evelyn. Brilliant actress. In the long run of "Angel Street" her costume has been a very long dress. Recently a special publicity picture was issued with the express purpose of revealing Judith is possessed of a pair of lovely limbs. Indications are when a woman has symmetrical legs she suffers when they are not visible.

My Day By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Tuesday—Today is Washington's Birthday, and living here in the White House makes you think a great deal about the kind of men who stand out in our history and whose birthdays we celebrate annually. Washington chose the site for the Capitol and discussed the plans for the city and the White House, although he never occupied it.

To me, the days at Valley Forge best show the stuff of which Washington was made. He went through great discouragement, with an army that was ragged, poorly fed and never warm, with insufficient ammunition, and with a divided government back of him which often provided no money with which to pay his soldiers.

* * *

HIS SOLDIERS WERE DEEPLY concerned about their homes and families. Because they knew that food would be lacking at home if the seeds were not planted and the harvest garnered, they frequently asked to go home in groups, which made the strength of his army uncertain, even though they promised to return.

What vision Washington must have had of the future to make him fight the Revolution through to victory! No wonder he was tired at the end, no wonder he longed to join his wife and live in peace at Mount Vernon. How simple the little problems of farm management must have seemed as he labored at his desk at Valley Forge!

There is one good reason for paying homage to our leaders of the past—it makes us remember our history and it gives us courage to face the present.

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON I received the newly appointed ambassador of the Argentine Republic, Senor Don Adrian C. Escobar, and his two very attractive young nieces. One of the girls is a professor of English and the other is just preparing for her last examination for a Ph. D. I do not think anyone need be afraid that their learning will keep them from enjoying life, however.

Hollywood . . . By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 23—The red carpet will be put down to welcome Rita Hayworth back to Columbia. Rita and Harry Cohn got together over the week-end and settled their dispute.

Today the legal lights confirmed Rita's informal agreement with her boss. She'll star in the much disputed "Tonight and Every Night," the same movie that brought about her walk-out.

Rita Hayworth

Victor Saville, who has been waiting for Rita to make up her mind for five months about this technicolor picture, had decided that if she didn't return the script would be rewritten for Janet Blair in the lead. Now Janet retains her original role and co-stars with Rita.

"CABBAGES AND KINGS," the play in which Mary Pickford was interested, and in which I said she might appear, has been bought by Michael Todd. It is a sort of "Alice in Wonderland" story with a musical score by Alec Templeton. The play is by Stella Ungar. Mike has been talking with David Selznick about borrowing Shirley Temple for the lead. Mrs. Temple, I know, has been eager to have Shirley do a stage-play and it seems that "Cabbages and Kings" would be an excellent vehicle for her. Mike was jubilant just before he took the train East because he had signed Joseph Fields, who has had three successes to his name—"Junior Miss," "My Sister Eileen" and "Doughgirls"—all Max Gordon productions. Fields is writing an original for Mike.

TO THOSE of us who remember Harold Lloyd in his heyday, Red Skelton doesn't seem to be the exact Lloyd type. But I happen to know Red and his director, S. Sylvan Simon, are moving heaven and earth to get Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to buy the old Lloyd hit, "Grandma's Boy." And, say, Red might not be bad if he would remember to restrain himself. Shyness was one of Harold's big assets, and it "ain't Red's. Meanwhile, away from the cameras the exhuberant Mr. Skelton is finding Lynne Merrick very good company now that his romance with Muriel Morris has chilled.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD AT RANDOM: Mae West's play, "Catherine Was Great," opens May 29 in San Francisco; Greta Garbo bought a home but the tenants refuse to leave; Vincent Price has been inducted into the Navy and the last person he called on before he left was his estranged wife, Edith Barrett; Jim Rogers, youngest son of Will, has been drafted and leaves Hollywood soon; Paulette Goddard, after many delays, is somewhere overseas. When I was in New York she was with Capt. Burgess Meredith every night; another romance still hot is that of Virginia Gilmore and Fritz Lang, who were a Clover Club duet the other eve; Columbia is trying to buy the Will Rogers stories to star Edgar Buchanan, the ex-dentist; Ensign Nicky Nayfack dancing every dance with his ex-bride, Lynne Carver; Charles Butterworth and Dusty (Cover Girl) Anderson have been doing the town; Col. Hal Roach, here on a visit, invited a group of his closest friends to dinner. Hal, since he's been in the Army, by renting his studio and with the income from his pictures, is completely out of the red; Carole Landis hosted a dozen servicemen at the Troc and then took them to see "Four Jills in a Jeep," her new picture.

Broadway . . . By Dorothy Kilgallen

Copyright, 1944, King Features Synd., Inc.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23—Donald is a newspaper columnist—to be technical, a Broadway columnist. He's a popular fellow, sharp about what's going on in the theatrical and movie worlds, and acquainted with scores of the most fascinating celebrities. This is a little tale from his past—say, six or eight years ago.

He was a reporter then, recently assigned to the Broadway beat. And one night, at the Paradise Restaurant, which at that time featured the prettiest pretties in town, he met Patricia—a little girl from a small town upstate.

It was love at first sight for Donald.

AFTER THAT, they spent every possible moment together, making plans. Plans to be married. Plans for Patricia's career.

Donald knew enough about the show business to know that Patricia needed training before she could land even the smallest kind of a part on the stage, so he took her to one of the top-flight dramatic coaches—Ronald, we'll call him—

Ronald described the wonders he could work for her—if she took a six months' course of lessons, which Donald, being such a swell guy and pal, et cetera, Ronald would give at a special rate of $600.

Patricia married the dramatic coach two weeks later. Now they have a lovely baby.

And Donald, good old Donald? Well, he's done all right since. He was disillusioned and downcast at first—and even more, he was burned. Because a few weeks after their marriage, Patricia's bridegroom sued him for the amount of the whole six months' course—and collected!

LILY WAS a gal-around-town with a penchant for finding down and out but attractive young men and (because she could afford it and it amused her) setting them up in a style to which her very wealthy and socially prominent beau had accustomed her.

One Swing St. bandleader, a handsome tow-headed dream boy named Danny, appealed to her, and soon was night-clubbing in the more luscious cellars, wearing custom-made suits, silk shirts, $10 ties and an air of well-being.

Naturally, the movie scouts were after him in no time. Certainly, he went to Hollywood. Surprisingly, he clicked in a phenomenal way.

But the scene changes, as it so often does, and we find Lily in dire straits, with the law hot on her heels and her wealthy beau gone with the wind. Of course, her first thought is of the young man whose career she assisted so strikingly. So she wires him for help, S.O.S., S.O.S., S.O.S.

Does he reply with a fast check and a note of cheer? No, he doesn't. Danny doesn't know her any more.

Star Shine By Sidney Skolsky

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 23 — The government has made a couple of pictures which should be seen by the public. There is Lieut.-Col. William Wyler's "Memphis Belle," which was shown to President Roosevelt this week, and is said to have pleased him very much. Then there is "The Negro Soldier," directed by Capt. Stuart Heisler for Colonel Frank Capra's unit, and is absolutely the best job of its type ever filmed . . . A leading hotel, not having any rooms available, now rents apartments in the district and sends their guests there . . . And showing how difficult it is to buy merchandise, Tom Jenks claims that he heard a woman say to a saleslady in a department store: "I'll buy it. What is it?" . . . Pfc. Jules Levine tells about the Texas captain of an all-Texas company in North Africa who told his men: "Our job here is to promote good neighborliness among other things. We've got to humor the natives. If they say Africa is bigger than Texas, agree with them."

BALLOTS FOR the Academy "Oscars" have been distributed, and now the motion picture industry is busy voting for its best. After listening to many of the voters talk, it seems that the contest for the best picture of the year is between "The Song of Bernadette" and "Casablanca," which should get it . . . The Academy, slightly pretentious and a little vague, asks the industry to vote for "the best production" and not the best all-around movie. This is misleading, for people are not supposed to vote for the best production, in size or beauty, but simply for the best motion picture. It doesn't have to be a gigantic production . . . The leading contenders for the "Oscar" for the best performance by an actor are Paul Lucas and Humphrey Bogart . . . The race for the "Oscar" for the best performance by an actress is more heavily contested, and the leading contenders are Jennifer Jones, Jean Arthur and Ingrid Bergman.

It is interesting to note that Ida Lupino, who won the New York Film Critics Award for the best performance, didn't make the Academy's list, and isn't even on the ballot considered for one of the best performances.

"—And don't talk with your mouth empty, either!"

Questions, Answers By George E. Sokolsky

IN SEPTEMBER 1940, the Gallup Poll reported that it had asked this question: "If there is starvation in France, Holland and Belgium this winter, should the United States try to send food to those countries in our ships?"

The results were: "Yes, 38 per cent; No, 62 per cent."

This year, the Gallup poll asked the question for the identical problem this way:

"Should the United States send food by neutral Swedish ships to the children of France, Belgium, Holland and other countries now occupied by German troops?" The answer came out this way:

Yes, 65 per cent; no, 22 per cent; no opinion, 13 per cent."

In 1940, 62 per cent were against the proposition; in 1944, 65 per cent are for it. And I insist, that there is absolutely no difference in the proposition itself; the distinction is in the wording of the question. Superficially, this gives the impression of an astonishing shift in public opinion.

Actually, the figures represent quite another story. I do not believe that there has ever been a time when the American people wanted civilians, particularly women, children and old people, to starve anywhere upon this earth, even in the bitterness and moral hollowness of war.

The difference lies in the fact that the question as asked in 1940 was inaccurate, careless and by implication impractical. The same question in 1944 is asked by Mr. Gallup with an honest approach to the problem. Many children have died in Europe because governments assumed in 1940 that American public opinion was opposed to feeding them. Had the 1944 question been asked in 1940, those lives might have been saved. Herbert Hoover always contended that had the 1940 question been asked in 1944 language, the result would have been as it actually came out.

In 1940, this country was suffering from a shipping shortage. A proposal to send American food by American ships was made by no one. Herbert Hoover's plan was to use the Swedish fleet, which was available, and to use the food of certain European countries which was also then available.

FURTHERMORE, no one proposed to employ a dollar of American money for this purpose in 1940. Herbert Hoover's plan was to use the ample funds of governments in exile—and he had promises of this money for this purpose.

But Mr. Gallup never, in 1940, put that proposition to the American people. He does in 1944 when it is tragically late.

Nor did he in 1940 state that the plan included the guarantee that if the Germans took any food or benefited by it the supply would stop. In a word, we would assume the responsibility of a moral act as long as the Germans played the game, but not a pound of food later.

I raised this issue because many take these polls seriously. They read the questions hurriedly without due regard to the wording and the political implications of the question as asked.

THEN THEY LOOK at the mathematical results and reach a definite conclusion. But the results may not relate to the fundamental problem but to the particular manner in which the question is asked.

In 1940, the question related to a specific proposal made by Herbert Hoover to the United Nations. The 1944 question describes Mr. Hoover's 1940 proposal more closely, but why was it not so stated in 1940? Why was a badly abstract question asked which was related to nothing proposed?

Americans would be wise to scrutinize these questions and answers carefully, particularly during the forthcoming political campaign. Before you look at the results, spell out the questions precisely, so that you know exactly and unmistakably what the answer means and to what it refers. You will often find that it is not always what it seems to be and that you may unwittingly be led to false conclusions.

"There I was left standing, holding the bag!"

By BETTY ALDEN

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES CARNEY of Brookline celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary on the holiday eve with a gay, informal Chinese party at their home.

All the guests, even Mrs. Carney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morse, entered into the spirit of the party by wearing colorful Chinese mandarin coats or gayly embroidered pajamas. Mrs. Carney, a petite and attractive brunette, chose an authentic Chinese bridal gown of brilliant pink and a fanciful Oriental wedding headdress.

The host and hostess received in the living room before a background of flowering quince and the rooms were lighted with Chinese lanterns. There was dancing throughout the evening and a buffet supper of chicken chow mein and tea in handleless Chinese cups. Crystal is the symbol of the 15th anniversary, and many of the guests brought gifts of bowls, cocktail glasses, ash trays and vases.

On hand to toast the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Woods, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Falvey, Mrs. D. Whipple Fry, Mr. and Mrs. Webb White and a number of other friends.

NOTES FROM A SOCIETY EDITOR'S CUFF. When serving tea at home in the afternoon Mrs. Bartlett Harwood often wears a fanciful pair of black pumps with her monogram, M. L. H., embroidered in gold on the toes. Mrs. Allen Forbes is wearing a service pin with four stars in honor of her three sons in the Navy and one in the Army. Mrs. Francis Cummings, up from Prides Crossing for a shopping spree, was glimpsed spending her No. 18 coupon at a fashionable shoe store. Vincent Club chorines and dancers had a holiday from rehearsals for their annual spring show and Mrs. Ernest B. Decker (Jane Bancroft) who is coaching the skits, spent the day at Cohasset where she takes such an active part in resort activities in the summertime.

Bad Coughs Yield Quickly To This Home Mixture

Surprisingly Quick Relief. No Cooking. Saves Money.

Here's a medicine for coughs due to colds, that you mix in your own kitchen. It's so easy to prepare that a child could do it, but once tried, you'll never again be without it.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed—no trouble at all! Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, put it into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint—a family supply—of very wonderful cough syrup. It's thrifty, too—about four times as much for your money. And children take it willingly, because it tastes so good.

This home mixture takes right hold of a cough in a way that's surprising. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Eases the soreness, and lets you rest at night.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a most reliable agent for soothing throat and bronchial membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Ask Day's Pay For Red Cross

Thousands of Greater Boston war workers today were urged to set aside their earnings next Tuesday, Feb. 29, as a send-off contribution for the 1944 Red Cross war fund drive.

Officials of Boston Metropolitan Chapter pointed out that the 29th represents the 366th day of Leap Year and in reality means an extra day's pay, which they say, should go to help heal the wounds of some man who fights an extra day.

Leaders of labor and management were asked to join in support of the plan in order to assure the campaign a good start. The $200,000,000 national drive opens March 1. Greater Boston's goal will be $4,641,000.

Plan Rights Bill Homage

Highlighting the memorial exercises of the National Bill of Rights Assn, and the Kiwanis Club, at Faneuil Hall on Thursday night, March 2, a replica of the Bill of Rights will be presented to Gov. Saltonstall.

In response to the presentation, Gov. Saltonstall will address the assembly on "Freedom of Assembly" and issue a proclamation declaring the following week "Bill of Rights Week" in observance of the anniversary.

Other speakers on the program will include Mayor Tobin, whose subject will be Freedom of Speech; Bishop Heron, Rabbi Liebman and Fr. Ahearn, who will speak on Freedom of Worship and an editor of one of the Boston newspapers, who will talk on Freedom of the Press.

Army Guard Killed

NEW BEDFORD, Feb. 23—The accidental discharge of a revolver while he was performing guard duty, was blamed today for the death of Pfc. George F. Penfield, 29, of Springfield, Army officials reported.

they could come and go and do as they wished.

So some of today's New Englanders I met in the field and some in their barracks—Sergt. John H. Mulligan of 238 Methuen s.., Lawrence, a reconnaisance leader, who once played the sax and trumpet for Joe Garry's dance band and craves his mother Anna's spiced kidney stew. (He's entering his fourth year of Army.)

And Sergt. Ed Barker of 901 Saratoga st., East Boston, once in the mailing room of the Boston Post, who has just visited his future brother-in-law, Frank Sacco, ex-English High baseball captain who is engaged to sister Shirley Barker.

And shock-haired, thick-set Pvt. Albert J. Ilsley of 29 Portland st., Haverhill, an orderly who cashiered for Genem's self-service market and, if it were peacetime, would be skiing on Cannon Mountain. And Pfc. George Gately of 48 Salem st., Haverhill, who used to tend the doughnut machines for his father in 20th Century Bakery and prizes the leather-bound Christmas picture of his June bride, Margie (Cleary).

And Sergt. Philip F. Sullivan of 275 Chestnut st., Chelsea, who spent his 27th birthday in London on New Year's, was a graduate of Hugh Duffey's a. m. baseball school and hopes to visit his dad Humphrey's birthplace in Kerry, Ireland.

And Pvt. Arthur H. Curtis, Jr., who was his father's chief-of-staff in the fuel and heating business, and a three-letter athlete at Worcester Academy. (He salutes the Red Cross and espcially Naida Riggs from North Grafton.)

Not Bitter at Home Front

Despite Secretary of War Stimson's recent remark that the soldiers of the AEF are "bitter at the lackadaisical home front," the writer has detected no sign of

Sergt. Fabio M. Perpali Brighton

Pvt. Dick H. Johnson Roxbury

"bitterness" on the part of the soldiers of the many different divisions he has visited here. They do display a state of mental confusion at the strike stories and petty politics and black market rampage which they read in the delayed U. S. papers that come to hand, but they are definitely NOT bitter as a body against anything.

Perhaps this lack of emotion may trace to a numbed feeling of what I might term "acceptance" of the circumstance which put them here. They aren't even "bitter" against the German foe, regarding them merely as a "mechanical obstacle" which must and will be removed before they can go home.

I can attest that such is the attitude of such average American youths as Pfc. Harry Schaewitch of 140 Walnut st., Chelsea, who wants to return to his machinists' course at Brookline and his hobby of jui-jitsu, and likes the chewing gum his sister, Celia, sent.

And of Pvt. Robert A. Macmillan of 17 Blaine ave., Beverly, a basic rifleman who used to work for Danker & Donahue's Newbury st. garage. And Pfc. Edwin J. Hannon of 241 Norfolk st., Cambridge, who worked for the Boston Woven Hose under Lucius Rowe and wants to go back to that and his week-ends at Baboosic Lake (N. H.)

Forget Civil Life

The Reconnaissance Battalion of this regiment is located in a muddy village of Nissen igloos which has all the aspects of a giant gypsy encampment on the side of a treeless slope. Like every other outfit of this Army they are a mixture of 48 states and so widely scattered that one New Englander seldom knows the presence of another until a surprise summons, like that of today, brings them together.

I spoke previously of a tendency among the longer-service men to find trouble remembering the details of civil life—as though groping among the disordered litter of their mental attics for some misplaced item.

I noticed it several times in this group—one lad even failing to remember the name of his pet dog. "I have it on the tip of my tongue but it just won't pop out," he explained. It's no sign of defect, merely that those neglected cells of memory have temporarily sealed.

Here was an old Woburn acquaintance in 1st Sergt. Bart J. McHugh of 282 Mountvale st., who used to work in Woburn City Hall under Marty McGah and was treasurer of Council 77, K. of C., and a close friend of Fr. Lawrence Killion of St. Joseph's.

And Staff Sergt. Fabio "Frank" M. Peapoli of 26 Breck ave., Brighton, the ex-speed skater for the Olympic Club who has received 115 letters and five packages from his wife Phanelle (Walters).

And Pvt. Dick H. Johnson of 825 Albany st., Roxbury, a 75-mm. gun loader, who ushered for George G. Solomon's Columbia Theater and married Marie (Kenney) last July. And Pvt. Albert "Dug" D. Penny of 54 Cross st., Somerville, whose brother, Eugene, is in the Navy. And Pvt. Arthur N. Sweeney of 16 Lark ave., Saugus, a 19-year-old "medic" who has picked up 10 pounds since graduating into war from high school. (He'd like to hear oftener from Mary Walsh.)

And Pvt. Norman O. Hemstad of 21 Giles ave., Beverly, a radio tender in the Army and a house painter by trade, who remembers that the last job he did was for a neighbor, James Egan, whose house he painted white with green trim. (Hemmy is a 20-year member of the "Y" and a basketball addict.)

And lastly Pfc. Joe W. Guilbeault of 211 Central st., Leominster, who recently ran across Earl Decoteuz and likes to meditate on the days when he was "extra" bartender for the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Ration Exile

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 23 (INS)—Aaron H. Martin, 59-year-old mennonite farmer, was on his way to Mexico from Lancaster County today, to start life anew where "there ain't no ration and a man can do as he pleases."

Martin, his third wife, and five of his 12 children, will take up their residence in the state of San Luis Potosi, where "the peons are mighty friendly," and land is good, and "nobody interferes with anybody."

Top Apple Desserts

By MARTHA LEE

FOR APPETIZING winter desserts, you'll find apple puddings worthy of a feature billing. Apple Betty, Apple Scallop and Apple Crisp, Apple Dumplings and Apple Turnovers are all top notch favorites. Plain applesauce can be converted into a toothsome dessert—served hot with gingerbread, or chilled, sprinkled with grated orange rind, and served with crisp cookies.

Wartime cooks have learned that it isn't necessary to garnish desserts with whipped cream or hard sauce. You can substitute a meringue or soft custard now that eggs are so plentiful and reasonable; or you can use milk or thin cream slightly sweetened and sprinkled with nutmeg.

APPLE BETTY

2 cups soft bread crumbs
1-3 cup melted butter or margarine
6 cups sliced, pared, cored apples (about 8 apples)
½ cup granulated sugar, or brown sugar, firmly packed
½ tsp. nutmeg or mace
½ tsp. cinnamon
1½ tbsp. lemon juice
1 tbsp. grated lemon rind
½ cup water

Combine the bread crumbs and melted butter and arrange 1-3 of this mixture in the bottom of a greased or oiled 1½ quart casserole. Cover with half the apples and half of the remaining ingredients, which have been combined. Cover with 1-3 of the crumbs, then the rest of the apples, and next the rest of the sugar mixture. Top with the rest of crumbs. Cover and bake in a moderately hot oven of 375 deg. F. for ½ hour. Remove the cover and continue baking 1 hour longer or until apples are tender. Makes 6 servings. Serve warm with desired sauce. White or whole-wheat bread crumbs may be used.

APPLE SCALLOP

4 cups soft apples, sliced
¼ to ½ cup brown sugar
2 to 3 tbsp. flour; 3 tbsp. butter
½ tsp. cinnamon; ½ tsp. salt
½ to 1 cup hot water

Blend sugar, flour, cinnamon, salt and butter to form crumbs to cover apple scallop. Arrange sliced apples in shallow baking dish, piling high in center. Add the hot water. Spread crumbs over top. Bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) until apples and crumbs have united. Makes 4 to 5 servings. Serve hot.

APPLE CRISP

6 cups corn flakes
½ cup melted butter; 1 cup sugar
4 cups sliced apples
1 tsp. cinnamon; 2 tbsp. butter

Roll corn flakes into fine crumbs. Combine melted butter with ¼ cup of the sugar and mix with the crumbs. Reserve 1-3 of this mixture and press remainder evenly over bottom and sides of 9-inch pie plate. Fill pastry shell with apples, sprinkle with remaining sugar, which has been mixed with cinnamon. Dot with butter and sprinkle remaining crumbs on top. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 30 minutes, then reduce heat to slow (300 deg. F.) and bake 1 hour longer, until apples are tender. Serve hot with cream. Makes 6 servings.

BAKED APPLE DUMPLINGS

Baking powder biscuit dough
6 medium-sized apples
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
Dash of salt; 1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tbsp. grated orange rind
½ cup raisins; 2 tbsp. butter
1 egg white; powdered sugar

Prepare biscuit dough, or use plain pastry. Roll ¼ inch thick and cut in 6-inch squares. Pare and core apples and place one in center of each square; fill cavities with mixture of sugar, seasonings and raisins and dot with butter. Bring opposite corners of dough together on top of apple, moisten edges of one side with water and seal; prick with fork. Brush with slightly beaten egg white and sprinkle with sugar. Bake in hot oven (450 deg. F.) for 10 minutes; then reduce heat to moderate (350 deg. F.) and bake 20 minutes longer. Makes 6 dumplings.

Beauty

Here's Cream of the Crop

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

FOR A FLOWER-FRESH COMPLEXION . . . give your skin a little beauty refreshment . . . Now is the time . . . to take time out . . . to beautify your face with a traditionally famous cream . . . that not only cleanses but beautifies the skin . . . to match in loveliness the true-blue facial beauty of Warner Bros. star, Irene Manning.

TIME FOR BEAUTY refreshment! It is in the air . . . this time of the year . . . when every woman craves a lovely, flower-fresh complexion.

It is the time of the year when we gals feel the spring urge for beauty . . . an insatiable hunger to renovate our face . . . our figure . . . and our clothes.

It is the time of the year when femininity comes into its own . . . with all the flourishes of skin and new clothes loveliness . . . and a gal longs to step to town in a great, big cosmetic way . . . burst-ing forth in glorious facial brightness . . . like a sunflower coming into bloom.

After winter hibernation . . . NOW is pickup time for perking up our complexion . . . and not bring it play second fiddle to a glamour-cut wardrobe. It is time to smooth away wintry dishness and dryness . . . the tautness left by old winds. It is time to greet the new season with a skin that's not only immaculate but smooth and radiant.

A FACIAL ILLUSION

Or am I wrong? Hasn't the urge to be springy as spring hit you as yet? Hasn't the dazzling array of exhibited new fashions cut a niche in your mind and heart? Since the new styles are for something out of this world . . . we gals have to create a facial illusion to meet the new mood.

And there is a cream . . . a delightfully frappe cream like a dish of whipped foaminess . . . as American as Plymouth Rock . . . which not only cleanses the skin but beautifies it as well. Ever since I can remember . . . and that goes back to quite a few years . . . this cream has been the selection of discerning and discriminate women. It has an epitome cream . . . embodying the lush richness of wonderfully beneficial ingredients . . . and when a gal whispered out loud it was the prize possession . . . all other gals sat up and took notice. It was that choice then . . . and it still is a choice facial preparation.

Traditional for supreme quality . . . it's a unique cream . . . doing double duty as it glides gently over your skin . . . with sufficient body in its consistency to assure you of a glamorous complexion, cleansed and beautified.

A SINK-IN FEELING

You get such a sink-in feeling when you use it . . . definite knowledge that your skin is responding to its benefits.

This cream comes in three sizes . . . and my advice is to get the full pound jar . . . to have all to hold for long, beauty-dividends-paying use.

For the name of this fastidious cream that both cleanses and beautifies, phone the Beauty Dept., HUBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Lipstick and Skirts

"DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: Tom and I have been married 10 years. We have three very promising children. I know he's terribly fond of me and that he couldn't do without me, the kids or our home. But like the rest of the lads, he's taken up with some of the girls who are helping to win the war and wreck homes while they're being little patriots.

"For the last few weeks, Tom's shirts and handkerchiefs have been smeared with lipstick. At first I put them in the washing machine and said nothing about it. Then the wifely worm turned and I left the shirts and handkerchiefs in the laundry basket.

"When my husband asked where were his clean shirts, I told him there weren't any, that he'd find all those marked with lipstick, along with his handkerchiefs, in the laundry basket. And that I was surprised to discover a man of his taste had joined the American Federation of Lipsticks. (Mr. Green will please pardon similarity of initials.)

"Then I cooed sweetly: 'You ought to tell those girls to use that new brand of lipstick called Wife's Friend, which washes out easily. It's a great saving of time and tears.' Tom bought himself some more shirts, and those bearing the lipstcik brand are still in the wash-basket.

W. W. (Wifely Worm)

Congratulations, my dear lady, on handling this situation with such good humor and high spirits.

You'd be very foolish, indeed, to break up your home for such an exhibition of vanity on the part of an otherwise good husband. As the Scotch say, men love to be thought a de'il with the women.

When to Announce

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN—I became engaged to a soldier about a month ago, and since then he has been shipped overseas. My parents want to announce the engagement in the newspapers. Do you think it would be proper for them to do this, since my fiance has gone overseas and we, of course, could not set a date for the wedding?

PUZZLED.

The fact that no date could be set for the wedding doesn't make any difference with the engagement announcement, since in this announcement it is not necessary to give a date for the wedding. I judge that you yourself may be a bit hesitant about making this announcement, perhaps because you didn't have an opportunity to talk over with your fiance the publishing of the announcement of your engagement.

The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

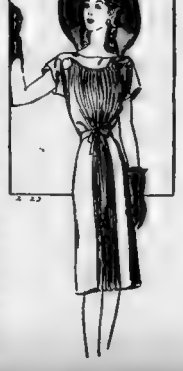
THIS IS WRONG—Chewing on the end of pen or pencil really won't help you to compose a letter and, if others must use the pen, is a very untidy habit.

New Dress Freedom

By BETTINA BEDWELL

MORE freedom inside our dresses is promised to all of us, come warm weather.

Nothing fits very tight, and yet the effect is very pleasant and graceful. The idea of this comes from the Greeks, who have never been bettered in their conception of a union of comfort, ease and beauty in a dress.



Today's style can be seen in the Ren-Eta model in our sketch. This ivory crepe dress is a little like a Greek column in its tall and stately look, but note the ease of the wide, low neckline, the loose, very short sleeves, and the looseness of blouse and skirt given by pleats down the front. A tie belt and appliqued bands ending in scrolls at the shoulders are nice details.

Quarantine Urged For Ex-Army Dogs

Dogs discharged from Army service should be kept under some sort of quarantine for observation before being returned to their original homes or placed in new ones, according to an Animal Rescue League bulletin.

Officials of humane organizations were asked to consider setting up a quarantine program, to help dogs readjust to "civilian" life and forget their Army training.

"Miracle of Morgan's Creek" At Met Another Sturges Hit

By PEGGY DOYLE

Preston Sturges, possibly Hollywood's most skilled dual performer, has made it extremely difficult for himself to top this one, "The Miracle of Morgan's Creek." The Eddie Bracken-Betty Hutton co-starrer, his latest writing-directing hit, is currently evoking Gargantuan laughter at the Metropolitan Theater.

When madder, merrier movies come slithering down the wind, Sturges, never doubt it, will make them. "Miracle" is proof positive . . . if his earlier "The Great McGinty" and "The Lady Eve" left a shadow of doubt.

MASTERFUL BLEND

Like all Sturges' other films, "The Miracle of Morgan's Creek" is a masterful blend of the daffy and the sound, reducing you to helpless, torturing laughter one minute and cuddling your heart the next. Since Sturges and originality have become synonymous, it would be redundant to point up the story's fresh twists and surprise situations. Superlative casting, excellent characterizations and inspired direction also go to make the picture a gem.

Bracken plays a small town bank clerk who yearns to be in uniform but can't pass the physical. He is madly in love with Betty Hutton, who impersonates Trudy Kockenlocker, the girl who doesn't love the Bracken, with unexpected brilliance for a Blonde Bombshell.

The two have a movie date, but Betty browbeats her putty-in-her-hands suitor to go to the movies alone, lease-lend her the car so she can go to a dance with some soldiers. When Betty shows up at 8 a. m., she confides to her sister, Diana Lynn, that she hit her head during jitter-bugging and remembers only that she had a wonderful time. Somewhat later, she recalls getting married to a soldier, that they didn't give right names and that his sounded like Ratzkiwatski. Eddie insists on marrying her when she discovers she is to have a baby. After all, he was with her the night "it" happened!

SURPRISE IN STORE

How writer-director Sturges resolves calamity into the year's most chucklesome, light-hearted comedy is for you and you to find out. Another surprise he has in store for you is the startling appearance in the later sequences of your old film friends, McGinty and The Boss, who would be Brian Donlevy and Akim Tamiroff.

Old Acquaintance Coming to Uptown

"Old Acquaintance," co-starring Bette Davis and Miriam Hopkins, will go to the Uptown screen for a week's run, beginning tomorrow, together with "Cross of Lorraine."

A STUDY in elephantine horror is Laird Cregar in "The Lodger," sensational boxoffice smash at the Paramount and Fenway which also boasts the long-stemmed beauty of Merle Oberon. "The Lodger" will tenant the twin M & P Theaters a second week.

Daughters of Stars in Debut

Three daughters of prominent film personalities are following the paternal footsteps in Warners' productions currently before the cameras . . . Karen Hale, 20-year-old daughter of Alan Hale, will make her screen debut in "Cinderella Jones," in which Ruth Brennan, daughter of Walter Brennan, also is appearing . . . Dolores Prinz, Director LeRoy Prinz's 16-year-old offspring, is making her film debut in "Janie" . . . Show business will pay tribute to the late Lorenz Hart, songwriter, at a show to be staged at New York's Majestic Theater on March 5, under the auspices of Ascap and the American Theater Wing. The Armed Forces Master Record, which supplies our fighting men with recorded musical libraries, will get the proceeds . . . Frank Sinatra, Gertrude Lawrence, former Mayor James J. Walker and William Gaxton will be among the participants.

TONIGHT AT THE OPERA

"Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci" will be presented tonight at the Opera House by the Salmaggi Opera Company, with Herva Nelli, Eraico Lawrence and Nemo Jyerjian. Gabriele Simeoni will conduct.

Salvage Collections Near Boston Record

Boston was headed for an all-time record high in salvage of waste paper and scrap tin today with February collections scheduled in Wards 11 and 12, Roxbury, and Wards 13 and 14, Dorchester.

Collections made in Wards 1 through 10 totaled 235,125 pounds of paper as against 235,140 last month, and 83,590 pounds of tin, compared with 75,670 in January.

JACK'S FOR JILL

BY BUD HILL

AM I SLAPHAPPY OR—NO—IT IS JILL! AND WOW! BUT LOOK! HOW COME? LEADING THE WATER BALLET AND EVERYTHING? WHY, LAST TIME I SAW YOU...
YOU DIDN'T EVEN BOTHER TO LOOK AGAIN! AND NO WONDER! IN THOSE DAYS I HAD ABOUT AS MUCH VIM AND STUFF AS AN OYSTER! BUT, DUCKY, THAT WAS BEFORE I GOT HEP TO THAT WONDERFUL "7-DAY VITAMIN PICKUP!"

YOU DID WHAT?
SIMPLY FIGURED I'D NEVER BE ANYBODY'S "PIN UP" GIRL AS LONG AS I WENT DROOPING AROUND FEELING TIRED AND EDGY! THEN—I FOUND THE REASON! 'TWAS SIMPLY THAT, LIKE MILLIONS, I WASN'T GETTING ENOUGH OF THOSE AMAZING "SPARK PLUG" VITAMINS IN MY DIET WHICH FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST CAN SUPPLY SO EASILY!

SO I DIVED RIGHT INTO MY FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST "7-DAY VITAMIN PICKUP"! TOOK 3 CAKES A DAY, EVERY DAY! AND JACK, IN JUST ONE WEEK I BEGAN FEELING SO WONDERFULLY MUCH BETTER! ALL FULL OF VIM AND VIGOR AND WHOOSH AND STUFF!
SAY—I'D BETTER TRY THAT IF I WANT TO KEEP UP TO YOU! AND BABY, I CERTAINLY DO!

GET A FULL WEEK'S SUPPLY OF FLEISCHMANN'S! 14 CAKES! IT KEEPS PERFECTLY IN REFRIGERATORS. TAKE 2 CAKES A DAY! AND KEEP IT UP! BECAUSE, IN A RECENT TEST, 8 OUT OF EVERY 8 PEOPLE WHO TOOK FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST SAID THEY BEGAN FEELING BENEFITS IN ONLY 7 DAYS!
If your bake at home, use Fleischmann's Fresh Yeast with the Yellow Label. It is the only yeast containing both Vitamin B Complex and added amounts of Vitamins A and D. *2 cakes supply 100% of minimum daily requirements of Vitamins A, B, and D; 14% 20% of Vitamin B1, and 2-3 mgs. of Iron.

Intermediate League Big U. S. Hockey Need

By HUCK FINNEGAN

It seems to be pretty well established that Greater Boston interscholastic hockeyists can hold their own with their Canadian brethren. Certainly there was no finer player on the Arena ice than Medford's Jack Garrity as Howie Morenz and his Montreal Catholic High six edged the GBI's, 3-2, on the holiday. Nor can you put your finger on any school players in the Dominion superior to Ray Chaisson, Fishy Dumond, Cliff Thompson, Jack and Bill Riley, recent GBI products.

Yet with the rare exception of a George Owen or Myles Lane, few New Englanders ever reach the National Hockey League.

Howie Morenz, Jr.

"I'll tell you why," said Johnny Temple of BC fame as he chatted with Sonny Foley and Bill Cleary after the Arena game. "It's because there is no 'intermediate' league in New England, no stepping stone between high school and pro hockey.

"The Olympics, in any average year, are too fast for high school boys, the kids have little chance, little incentive to better themselves. As a result they forget all about hockey as soon as they get a job."

4 Hockey Grades

IT'S NOT that way in Canada, Montreal Catholic, for example, has four different grades of hockey—bantam, junior, Senior B and Senior A. That is the rule rather than the exception throughout Dominion school ranks. In addition there are all sorts of amateur leagues, similar to our Class D, C, B, A etc in baseball. Youngsters like Morenz, Jack Morrow and Roger Perron play amateur as well as high school hockey and it is said that Catholic's goaler, Paul Girouard, is on the Canadiens' reserve list at this early date.

Thus the visitors are better grounded in the fundamentals of hockey than the Americans which led Bill Cleary to observe as early as the second period: "These Canadians are clever play makers, especially Morenz and that No. 2 (Tommy Bridel). They're forever passing forward, and they know how to check back. The GBI's can't afford to let up a minute or they'll lose that 2-0 lead."

Sure enough they did lose it on two of the smartest screen plays ever seen in scholastic hockey. GBI goaler Dick Desmond didn't see either Morenz' tying shot or Don Aird's game winner from the blue line. No chance to save.

Nevertheless, the GBI's deserve a world of credit. They don't have the chance to practice their Montreal rivals have. Their season is two months shorter. Everything being equal as many of them would graduate into big league ranks as Canadians. And how would you like a Canadian league and an American league in hockey! The playoffs would mean something then. As it is, well . .

"It's the same way in baseball" Cleary opined. "There's no better hockey or baseball incubator in the nation than Greater Boston. If the majors would get the New England League organized, they'd do better by local boys than shipping them to some farm club in Mississippi.

"There they swelter in the heat for a pittance, get disguested and quit. On the other hand they'd thrive on the N. E. climate, couldn't get homesick or wouldn't have to spend all their money for room and board. And don't forget: Cities like Pawtucket, Lynn, Worcester and Manchester would be gold mines."

Hub Dads Lose Out

THERE WERE no signs of juvenile delinquency at the Arena doubleheader. Long before game time a happy, well-mannered ticket line extended down St. Botolph st., around the corner of Mass. ave. to Symphony Hall. And customers were paying their way in as late as 2:40 for the games that started at 2:00 . . . Hundreds of fathers were on hand with young sons to see the action but not fathers of city school players. No, Boston schools don't allow post-season games, don't allow Saturday games. Only chance fathers of Boston school athletes have to see their athletic sons in action is to take a day off. And who can take a day off in wartime? . . . The games probably would have been a sell-out at the Garden, for few fans north of Boston ever troupe to the Arena . . . Young Morenz plays shortstop for Catholic's baseball team, batted .508 last spring. Next to hockey, however, he likes swimming best . . . The talented son of the Canadiens immortal won't be 17 until Saturday. He has another year at Montreal Catholic.

Hawks Get Playoff Spot as Bruins Slide

By BILL GRIMES

The Chicago Blackhawks dissolved their fourth place partnership with the Bruins last night by hanging an 8 to 4 defeat on the Rangers over in New York.

For two periods, the Blue Shirts managed to stay within striking distance of the Hawks but in the final chapter the Windy City puck chasers ran in five goals on Ken McAuley and took full possession of the last play off berth.

Al Palazzari, who tried to break into the N. H. L. with the Blackhawks after he graduated from the University of Illinois and who was sold to the Rangers a few days ago, scored the first New York goal.

Doug Bentley scored four goals and was credited with an assist. The Chicago left winger now has made 30 goals and 29 assists for 59 points.

The Bruins are en route to Ottawa, where they will play an exhibition game for charity tomorrow night.

Clarence Schmidt and Tommy Brennan have been drafted from the Olympics again by Manager Art Ross. On his last tryout with the Rossmen, Schmidt looked like he had a chance to make the grade. But, during the last Rangers game at the Garden, "Bucko" McDonald handed "Schmiddy" one of his best Sunday checks and Clarence was hospitalized until last Sunday night when he returned to the Pics' lineup.

With Russ Kopak on the injured list and Al Palazzari sold to the Rangers, the Bruins had to call upon Coach Hago Harrington for two replacements. So, Schmidt and Brennan received their orders to rejoin the varsity and are expected to arrive in the Capital City in time to get into action tomorrow night.

CAIN PACES SCORERS

Although the Bruins haven't been doing so well, Herbie Cain is still the pacemaker in the race for N.H.L. scoring honors. Cain has scored 31 goals this season, two more than Lorne Carr of the Maple Leafs and he has a total of 65 points, three more than the Toronto right winger, who is in the runner-up berth.

With 10 games to play, Cain has an excellent chance to break the all time high mark of 73 points, which was established by Cooney Wieland 14 years ago and equalled by Doug Bentley last season.

Art Jackson is the second highest Bruins scorer with 22 goals and 29 assists for 51 points, one in arrears of Bill Cowley, who has played in only one of the Bruins last 13 games.

And, while on the subject of scoring, this looks like an opportune time to give young Gus Bodnar of the Maple Leafs a "plug" for the "best rookie of the year" award, which the Montreal scribes are practically conceding to Bill Durnan, Les Canadiens' goal minder.

Bodnar was graduated from the amateur ranks last fall. A year ago, he played center for U. C. L. A. After a tryout at St. Catherine's, Toronto signed Bodnar and Coach "Hap" Day assigned the kid to play on the first line, a berth that Jackie Hamilton held down last season following the accident which cost the Maple Leafs the services of Syl Apps.

With two veteran wing men, Lorne Carr and Bob Davidson flanking him, Bodnar didn't draw the softest assignment when he was selected to be the play maker on the Leafs' first line. But, he has made the grade and also made Carr a serious contender for top scoring honors. Young Bodnar has scored 18 goals and has been credited with 31 assists for a total of 49 points, which is a noteworthy achievement even in war time hockey.

Alsab's Fate in Balance

By BERT COLLIER

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 23 (AP)—Whether Al Sabath's Alsab will run in the $25,000 Widener at Hialeah Park March 4 apparently rested today on the report of three veterinarians who ordered him out of a prep sprint yesterday, thereby starting a controversy.

Just before the race the veterinarians contended the Sabath horse was injured but Sabath, dissenting vigorously, invited the crowd over the loud speaker to stay and watch Alsab run anyway in a publicd emonstration of his fitness.

As the shadows fell across the deserted stands, a few hundred people saw the horse which had won $349,879 for the Sabaths, breeze the three quarters in a flat 1:16.

The veterinarians said nothing, except that a written report will be filed today with the track stewards.

That report will decide Alsab's future at Hialeah. He was being pointed for the rich Widener as the best beginning in his campaign to overhaul Whirlaway as the champion money winner of the turf.

"He's entered in the Widener and I'm not withdrawing him," Sabath declared. "If he's scratched the track officials will have to do it."

The veterinarians, one representing the Florida state racing commission and two employed by the track, may stick to theirguns and declare Alsab is not fit to race.

DON'T SCRATCH YOUR HAIR AWAY

This young man has a good head of hair and doesn't feel that he will ever be bald. Yet his scalp is laden with dandruff, itches constantly, and he loses a great deal of hair each day. His hair is falling rapidly and the constant itching is nature's warning that baldness is on the way.

Statistics show that as much as 85% of all baldness can be prevented if properly treated in time; but once you are bald you can never hope to re-grow your hair. Free, private consultation with John E. Warner and Associates would tell him that he could keep this fine head of hair by acting now.

A few years later it is too late, his appearance is permanently marred. Don't let baldness come to you since scientific Warner treatment and proper care afterward can prevent it in most cases.

There is no charge or obligation for a private scalp examination and consultation. Fees for treatment are very moderate and are payable as the treatments are taken—not in advance.

There is a separate department for women.

Hours: Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 11 a. m. to 9 p. m. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

MONTREAL HIGH FORCED BY CRACK HUB SIX

By MIKE GILLOOLY

The greatest crowd of the schoolboy hockey season had an opportunity to compare Jack Garrity, Medford High School, with Howie Morenz, Jr., Catholic High of Montreal, and the consensus of all proved that there was little choice between the two at the end of one of the most hectic games of the entire history of the classic.

Garrity had the favor of the home town fans but there was plenty of cheering when the clever Canadian center flipped home the rubber that knotted the count.

WOULDN'T TRADE

As far as the rival coaches were concerned, neither would consider a trade. Coach Johnnie Prior of Medford, mentor of the Greater Boston All-Stars, and Brother MacDonald, coach of the Canadian team, felt that their own center was the better so that any debate between the two would provide nothing more than an endless argument.

The victory gave Montreal a clean sweep of its two-game series on this trip. Sunday afternoon, the Catholic team had things much its own way in downing La-Salle Academy in Providence by a 6-2 count. The entire squad left last night for home where the team will prepare for the Senior Interscholastic Championships.

Ever know that young Morenz once gave up hockey? . . . it happened when he was nine years old and it was one of his father's favorite stories . . . young Howie went to see his father in a hospital with a broken leg and various other body injuries that required taping . . . seeing his father in such a condition, young Morenz declared "If that's what hockey did to you, I'll never play again" . . . he didn't for 20 whole hours.

Montreal's winning goal, a long shot from the blue line by Don Aird, was deflected into the net by John Kelly, Belmont . . . the Belmont player attempted to knock down the disk but it hit him on the arm and continued on its way.

Famous last words by Coach Prior . . . "They're a bad crowd to be short-handed with" . . . meaning, of course, Morenz and Co.

Referee Dies While Officiating at Fight

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Feb. 23 (AP)—Michael Bozza of Newark, who fought 20 years ago as a lightweight under the name of Mickey Donley, died while refereeing a bout at the Grotto Auditorium.

Bozza, 47, fell over backwards while officiating in the eighth round of a bout between welterweights Jimmy Murray and Stanley Miller, both of Brooklyn, N. Y. The fight was in its last 30 seconds. Both fighters rushed to him, and Dr. Harry Cohen, police surgeon, pronounced Bozza dead. Chief Referee Paul Cavalier declared the bout a draw.

Bay State Stars Win in Arena

In what started out to be a close fought, bitterly contested goalie battle turned out to be a high scoring game when the Bay State League All-Stars defeated the Eastern Mass. All-Stars, 7 to 4, in a swell game at the Arena.

Then to make the evening a complete success Walter Kerrivan scored twice—one in the final seconds of play—to give the Bay State's second team a 2-1 victory over the Eastern's second squad.

But in the second stanza of the first game Jim Jenkins, of Hudson, picked up a loose puck and went in alone for the opening marker and before the period was over a total of six goals were slammed home.

After Jenkins' goal the Bay Staters started to roll and Bob Driscoll and Lennie Ceylarski each registered to send their team out front, only to be caught by Ed Clasby on a nifty solo. Then the Bay Staters went out front, aided mostly by the great Needham line that accounted for three markers, for an easy victory.

Colman, Barrett Fill Buc's Garden

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 23 (INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today boasted a complete outfield for the 1944 season following receipt of signed contracts from Frank Coleman and Johnny Barrett.

Barrett, a southpaw, is coming up for his third season with the Pirates. Last year his batting mark was .231 for 130 games. Colman, young flychaser from Canada, hit .271 in 32 games for the Bucs in 1943.

Rickey, Carpenter in Business Powwow

WILMINGTON, Del., Feb. 23 (INS)—Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers Baseball Club, arrived in Wilmington today on what he described as "a little business trip."

Rickey declined to discuss the nature of his business, but said he "probably would run across Bob Carpenter," president of the Phils, today. Carpenter said he had no scheduled meeting with him.

Dartmouth Five In Hoop Tilt Here

The Hanover Marines, made up of stars who sparked Dartmouth to the Eastern basketball championship this year, will tangle with the powerful Quartermasters five in the hoop feature of the year at Mechanics Building Sunday afternoon.

Having completed their course of study at Hanover, these court greats, with a week of vacation, are playing this last game as a unit and should be the attraction of the winter, for Dartmouth did not make a local visit all season.

Sundra Shifts Draft Records to New Home

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Feb. 23 (AP)—Steve Sundra, big right-hander of the St. Louis Browns, has had his selective service records transferred from an Ohio city to Atlantic City, his present home, and Atlantic City draft officials said last night that if his papers arrived here before March 3 the pitcher would be called for a pre-induction test then.

Sundra, who won 15 and lost 11 for the Browns last year, was unavailable for comment.

Bierman Takes Over At Pensacola Base

PENSACOLA, Fla., Feb. 23 (INS)—Lieut.-Col. Bernie Bierman, USMC, former football coach at Tulane and Minnesota, today assumed duties as athletic director at the Pensacola Naval Air Training Center.

Bierman succeeds Lieut.-Comdr. George ("Potsy") Clark, former Detroit Lions' mentor, who is being transferred to a new post.

Boudreau 1-A

CLEVELAND, Feb. 23 (AP)—Lou Boudreau, the Cleveland Indians' 26-year-old manager, may be the first major league team pilot to be drafted in the present war.

"I'm ready to go—just like the rest of 'em," Lou said at Chicago after his reclassification to 1-A by his Harvey, Ill., draft board.

He has no idea how soon he will be called, the youngest of big league managers and one of the outstanding infielders said today.

Terror Tackles Ed White

The Golden Terror, 379-pound duration champion, defends his crown against Ed "Strangler" White, former University of Alabama football star, in the main bout of Promoter Paul Bowser's weekly wrestling show at the Arena tonight.

In the semi-final, Rebel Bob Russell will be out to protect his roughhouse reputation against Dr. John "Drop-Kick" Murphy. The weekly special will pit Jim Spencer, former Bates football star, against John Katen, Toronto, while the opener will find Frank Judson, ex-Harvard mat instructor, facing Les Ryan, Fordham.

MAIN BOUT
Golden Terror vs. Ed "Strangler" White, Alabama.

SEMI-FINAL
Rebel Bob Russell, Newport, R. I., vs. Dr. John Murphy, Acton.

SPECIAL BOUT
John Katen, Toronto, vs. Jim Spencer, Bates.

OPENING BOUT

Lowly Hawks Set Attendance Record

CHICAGO, Feb. 23 (AP)—Chicago's Blackhawks haven't been able to keep in the National Hockey League first division but they're tops in attendance this season.

President Bill Tobin says the Hawks, with six more home games, will have played before 350,000 fans, a record. In 19 home games, the attendance was 263,606.

Bartolo to Box Here

Sal Bartolo, of East Boston and the U. S. Maritime Service, will meet Phil Terranova, NBA world featherweight champion, in a 15-round bout for the title at the Boston Garden March 15.

The championship battle, with both men making the 126-pound weight limit, will be staged by the Goodwin A. C.

Poodle Best In Hub Show

Puttencove Impetuous, a standard poodle, was best-in-show among an attractive sextet of variety winners as the 31st annual Eastern Dog Clubs show came to a close at the South Armory.

The poodle, owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Putnam of Manchester, Mass., was the first ever to score at the Eastern, and was winnig his first best-in-show.

Bethune Larratt Smith of Toronto judged the finals. He praised the coformation of the standard poodle.

Jug Rejected; Back on Trail

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 23 (AP)—Harold "Jug" McSpaden, hottest golfer in the winter circuit, hit the tournament trail again today, rejected for military service because of acute asthma.

The 34-year-old Philadelphia Country Club pro was classified 4-F after an Army induction center examination yesterday and left immediately to compete in a weekend tournament in New Orleans.

McSpaden's draft board called him back from his triumphant western tour several days ago. In several tourneys he had established himself as the season's top pro money winner and lowest scorer.

Calverly Frail But Dazzles Foes

ORONO, Me., Feb. 23 (AP)—Warned to take it easy last July when the Army Air Corps discharged him because of a heart murmur, Ernie Calverley of Pawtucket, R. I., a member of the colorful Rhode Island State basketball teamb, today loomed as the East's top court scorer with a total of 518 points in 19 games.

To date the 4-F Calverley has averaged 27.26 points in all of his 19 games and he has one more to go, against the University of Connecticut on March 4.

Although standing only 5-10 and considered very thin for an outstanding courtster, Calverley has managed to function as the most valuable performer on his team and the most accurate shooter from the floor.

As several of his opponents have agreed, "Calverley does not look strong enough to even walk across the court, and when he does attempt it, no insurance company would consider him anything but a walking corps.

Last night here Calverley tossed in a total of 45 points against the University of Maine forces, including 27 in the first half. During that time, Maine managed to have possession of the ball only a total of two minutes.

That gives the Pawtucket sharpshooter a national intercollegiate record as his forces romped to a 115-37 win over the Maine quintet. He still has, however, one more game to go.

Calverley entered Rhode Island State in June of 1942 and that fall he won a regular post on a Rams' team that won 16 games and lost three. During his first season, Calverley set an individual record of 41 points against Massachusetts State.

He entered the Army Air Corps on March 28, 1943, and was assigned to Kessler Field, Miss. After a month there, he was sent to the Springfield State Teachers College at Springfield, Mo., where he served for three and a half months before he received his medical discharge.

Now he is ranked as a sophomore at Rhode Island State and when he gets his degree he plans to be a teacher-coach.
